Brownell Bars Release Of Secret FBI Data At Probe

McCarthy Calls On Official To Justify Stand

By Ed Creagh

Washington (AP)—Atty. Gen. Brownell ruled against Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) yesterday on releasing some secret FBI data dealing with a search for espionage. The senator angrily demanded that Brownell be called before the Senate Investigations subcommittee to justify his stand.

With this question still open, the McCarthy-Pentagon inquiry delved into the record of a certain "Mr. X." This man never was named, but McCarthy charged he is one of several persons with "Communist connections" who have served on the Pentagon's top security screening board.

John G. Adams, Army counsel, replied that the man had been cleared of security risk allegations after an investigation.

Brownell got into the inquiry when the Senate investigators asked him if it would be all right to make public a "letter" produced earlier by McCarthy—a letter that turned out to be a cut-down version of an FBI memo on the question of espionage at Ft. Monmouth, N. J.

The attorney general sent back his answer yesterday. It was no. He said the letter makes "unauthorized use" of secret FBI data. And he ruled it would be against the public interest to disclose either the letter or the 15-page FBI memo from which it was extracted.

This prompted McCarthy to make the most impassioned speech he has made since the televised hearings began two weeks ago.

He declared Brownell himself set a precedent for releasing such material when he divulged FBI data against "a dead spy—not the live spies we are discussing"—in the Harry Dexter White case.

Shouting, and his voice rising to an emotional pitch, McCarthy said the time has come to test Truman-Eisenhower security directives.

"As far as I personally am concerned," McCarthy declared, "no Truman directive or any other directive which is designed not for the security of this nation, but to prevent embarrassment of those responsible for covering up Communists, will keep me from making public the type of information we have here showing gross neglect."

McCarthy contends the 1951 "letter" shows the Army had ample warning of spy danger in secret radar laboratories. But the Army, he says, ignored such warnings.

Pentagon officials on the other side of the fence deny there was any laxity. They produced a statement from FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover yesterday saying he received fine cooperation from Army Intelligence.

At the heart of the row are (a) charges by Pentagon officials that McCarthy and aides brought pressure to get favors for draftee G. David Schine, and (b) counter-charges by the McCarthy side that civilian chiefs at the Pentagon tried to block the McCarthy investigation of Ft. Monmouth.

Today's hearing, by special vote of the subcommittee, will be held in the morning only.

Demands Studied By Steelworkers

Pittsburgh (AP)—The CIO United Steel Workers' powerful Wage Policy Committee weighed yesterday a motion to adopt a four-point program including demands for higher wages and a guaranteed annual wage as the basis for negotiating a contract with the basic steel industry.

The four-point program was adopted earlier yesterday by the union's 39-member Executive Board and handed to the Wage Policy Committee for final approval before negotiations open with U. S. Steel Corp. May 18.

Other points in the program call for improved insurance and pension plans and better contract terms.

SEN. JOSEPH R. MCCARTHY shows the Senate Investigations subcommittee in Washington an abbreviated copy of the letter which caused him to be called as a witness, under oath, at the hearings. He testified that the document that reportedly summarized a secret FBI report was given him by a young intelligence officer, whose identity he refused to divulge.

Ike Signs Road Bill

Washington (AP)—President Eisenhower yesterday signed a bill authorizing $66 million dollars in federal aid for highway construction in each of two fiscal years starting July 1, 1955.

In doing so, the President expressed hope that during the next five years it will be possible to build more great toll highways throughout the country. He said the program should provide for parking facilities in large cities. And for highways that would by-pass congested areas.

The money aid authorized in the highway measure, which will be matched by the states in most cases, is a new record. It compares with $52 million dollars authorized for the current fiscal year and for the new one starting July 1.

Actual funds for the work must be appropriated later. Administration officials have described the expanded program as a valuable reserve measure in case the economic pumps should need priming.

The bill sets up a new formula for allotting funds toward interstate roads, giving a somewhat larger share than heretofore to the more populous states.

In a prepared statement, the President said the measure amounts to "one effective forward step" toward meeting accumulated highway needs, and added:

"It keeps in the states, as I deeply believe it should, primary responsibility for highway construction. At the same time, it recognizes the responsible relationship of the federal government to the development of a sound, nationwide highway system."

Highway Department Orders 30-Day Delay In One Phase Of Broad St. Construction

Widening of the traffic lane on the north side of Foxtown Hill road by some ten feet from Broad St. intersection for a considerable distance up the hill to permit an easier turn off Route 611 to reconstructed Broad St., will be delayed, it was disclosed yesterday.

This phase of the project to rebuild Broad St. and erect a new bridge across McMichael's Creek at Fifth St., will be delayed at least 30 days after Rake & Litts, low bidders on the project, have started their operations, Edward C. Hess, Stroudsburg borough engineer told Stroudsburg Council this week.

Hess said R. E. Boyer, district engineer of the highway department, told Gershon Litts of the contracting firm, not to do anything on Route 611 for at least 30 days for the reason that any work or installations might have to be disturbed later.

Hess told council Mr. Boyer did not elaborate on what might disturb the work on Route 611.

Included in plans for widening the road for any easier turn off Foxtown Hill road to the new Broad St. traffic surface, is a new system of drainage intended to comply with a request of Stroudsburg Council to eliminate drainage pipes which now dump water off Rt. 611 onto South Stroudsburg residential properties.

Hess was reporting to council on a conference held on the project site last Friday.

The conference was called by state highway officials with the contractor, all utilities and the Borough of Stroudsburg represented. Mr. Hess represented Stroudsburg.

In addition to Mr. Boyer, highway was represented by J. E. Krick, E. F. Ferer, A. G. Kerevich and D. M. Bond, Metropolitan Edison, P. P. & L. Citizens Gas Co. were represented, but Monroe County Water Supply Co. did not send a representative.

Utilities were instructed on what they are to do regarding their installations, poles, pipes, etc., before or during the project work.

Mr. Litts advised his firm planned to develop the bridge and street project in this manner. Engineer Hess outlined Litts' plan as follows: First outlined the abutments for the bridge which spans only McMichael's Creek and install a pipe line in the mill race adjacent Ann St. to carry 36 inches of water to the Holland Thread Co.

Litts will press the bridge operation, including steel erection and move in on curb and gutter work on Broad St. as soon as utilities get their service poles out of the way. He will not tear up Broad St. until the bridge is advanced to a stage where he can drive it to dump material taken from Broad into the deep gap between Ann St. and the end of the bridge nearest Ann St. This gap includes the mill race.

All of that space will be filled with earth so that the remainder of the distance will be used for a roadway, eliminating necessity of a bridge spanning the entire distance from Broad to Ann at Fifth St.

This method of operation means that the old bridge will be kept open almost to the time Broad St. is ripped up and prepared for a new traffic surface.

After deliberating only an hour and 50 minutes, the jury filed into the Bucks County Court room where the trial was held and read its verdict.

Not a trace of emotion crossed Capps' unsmiling face. But his wife broke down and cried bitterly.

Defense Counsel William Power of Doylestown indicated he would appeal the verdict to a higher court.

Bureau Favors Pocono-Wide Traffic Survey

Pocono Mountain Vacation Bureau last night declined to oppose the channeling of all Route 611 traffic through Ninth and Main Sts.

Neither did the directors endorse the lower Godfrey's Ridge traffic thru-way urged by the Stroudsburg Businessmen's Association.

Instead, directors unanimously passed a motion by Edward C. Jenkins of Buck Hill Falls that the bureau go on record as favoring an "all-county, Pocono-wide traffic survey by a professional, impartial party or firm, to cover the traffic situation" for the next 15 years.

The motion came after a long discussion. New President Henry Arneberg read directors a letter from the Stroudsburg Businessmen asking the Vacation Bureau to join in a stand against the Ninth and Main Sts. route and for the lower ridge thru-way.

It was mentioned that it was unlikely that the district could obtain the three or four million dollar lower ridge thru-way within the next four years—but that the $650,000 Ninth and Main Sts. project could be done.

After more discussion and the raising of several points which could not be answered, directors agreed they "didn't have sufficient data at this time."

Jenkins then made his motion for a survey.

Planes Bomb Rebel Troops

Hanoi, Indochina (AP)—Fleets of bombers swarming in as monsoon clouds lifted showered fragmentation bombs on Vietminh troops surrounding beleaguered Dien Bien Phu yesterday. The attacks ripped big gaps in the tightening rebel lines.

Bombers from bases in northern Indochina and from the former U. S. aircraft carrier Belleau Wood, now owned by the French as the Bois Belleau, swept in to bomb not only artillery emplacements but also the creeping trench systems now little more than 100 feet from the barbed wire protecting the inner fortress.

Land-based Privateer bombers carried four 500-pound bombs each, designed to explode above ground with deadly intensity among infantry. Hell Divers and Bearcats from the carrier came in for more precision attacks.

Joining in the barrage from the sky were squadrons of B-26 bombers dropping 1,000-pounders on the string of Vietminh anti-aircraft batteries around the rim of the isolated northwestern Indochinese fortress, and on the Red-led rebels' artillery emplacements.

Paraguayan Revolt Reported At End

Buenos Aires, Argentina (AP)—The Paraguayan radio announced yesterday the quelling of a revolution by elements of the Army but left unclear the status of President Federico Chaves, the country's ruler for the past five years.

The radio carried a communique signed by Gen. Alfredo Stroessner, commander in chief of the armed forces, ordering resumption of normal business activities following Wednesday's revolt.

There were no known contacts between East and West on higher levels.

The French made a tentative effort to obtain the international committee of the Red Cross as intermediary in seeking a truce at Dien Bien Phu.

Although both the French and the all-Swiss committee declined any information, it was learned that the French wanted the committee to approach the Vietminh concerning a truce.

The committee held a meeting late yesterday, but a spokesman would say only that it would be impossible for the Red Cross to act as intermediary at the request of one side because of the political implications.

Marc Jacquet, French minister for affairs of the Associated States, arrived from Paris last night with precise instructions for the French delegation, formulated at yesterday morning's Cabinet session.

He went immediately to Bibault who had just received word on the vote of confidence.

The 311 to 262 vote authorized the government to continue to negotiate at Geneva for an end to the Indochina War.

British Speedster Runs Mile In Less Than Four Minutes To Set New World's Record

Oxford, England (AP)—Roger Bannister last night ended the athletic world's quest for the four-minute mile with a monumental effort in which he was timed at 3:59.4.

Competing in his first race of the year, and on his own track at Iffley Road, the shy former Oxonian burst through the legendary four-minute barrier as a meager crowd of 1,000, mostly Oxford students, watched the memorable performance during which he drove himself mercilessly through a .589 final lap.

Thus he thrust into the dustbin of sports history the world record mark of 4:01.4 established July 18, 1945, at Malmö, Sweden, by the great Gunder Haegg of Sweden. Bannister also unofficially equalled the 1,500-meter world mark of 3:43 en route to his mile mark.

Bannister was pulled along through the first three laps by a fellow Oxonian, Chris Chataway, and a former Cambridge steeplechaser, Chris Brasher.

He kept on Brasher's heels for the first two laps, and when Chataway rushed into the lead Bannister stayed with him through the third lap.

He was clocked at 37.5 for the quarter and 1:58.2 for the half. When he passed the three-quarter mark in 3:00.5 the handful of spectators seated in the small pavilion and scattered about the field gave a lusty cheer.

The great runner bided his time until about 300 yards from the tape, when he urged himself to a supreme effort. With a machine-like, seemingly effortless stride he drew steadily away from Chataway, and, head thrown back slightly, he breasted the cool, stiff wind on the last turn to come diving down the home stretch to climax his spectacular performance.

Before Bannister's tremendous record can become official it must be approved by the International Amateur Athletic Federation, but chances appeared good as the meet was an official one and the race was run under standard conditions.

The track was immediately resurveyed, and the measurement showed it was a half-inch longer than one mile.

Spectators and athletes surged around the exhausted Bannister after he finished. Two officials held him erect as he regained his breath. Then came the announcement of the great time.

Dulles Fears Loss Of Most Of Indochina

Washington (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles is reported pressing a Far East policy which recognizes that, short of a military miracle, the major part of Indochina may be lost to the Communists.

The plan is reported based on an estimate that any "united action" plan which can be devised may be too late to save Viet Nam, the biggest and richest of the three Indochina states.

The present American strategy, it was learned, calls for the United States to concentrate on guaranteeing along with other countries the defense of neighboring Laos and Cambodia.

Informants said the U. S. attitude does not mean that this country will abandon Viet Nam, nor halt shipments of aid to the French Union forces. They said both the Indochina battlefields and the Geneva conference could change the new Dulles approach, which he will discuss in a radio-television talk tonight at 8:30.

There were no known contacts between East and West on higher levels.

Sen. Johnson Charges U.S. Bluff Called

Washington (AP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) declared last night that the Eisenhower administration has been "caught bluffing by our enemies" and the United States stands "in clear danger of being left naked and alone in a hostile world."

The Senate Democratic leader launched an attack on the Republican administration's foreign policies in a speech at a $100-a-plate Jefferson-Jackson dinner.

Rep. Rayburn (D-Tex.) also spoke to the approximately 1,500 party faithful who turned out for the first Washington dinner of its kind since the Democrats went down to defeat in the 1952 presidential election. Rayburn said that while he has no personal criticism of President Eisenhower, the Republican party is headed "downward" toward loss of control of Congress in the November election.

In a message to the dinner, attended by former President Truman, Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois, the 1952 party presidential nominee, predicted that the Republicans "will have considerable experience as a minority after November of 1954."

B.C. Forbes Dies

New York (AP)—B. C. Forbes, editor and publisher of the business magazine bearing his name, was found dead last night in his Fifth Avenue office.

It happened at 10:30 one night when Mitchell came home and found his wife, Margaret, 25, entertaining three other women with whom she likes to sing "barber shop" tunes.

The visitors left when Mitchell came home. Mrs. Mitchell went outside to bid them good night. Mitchell slammed the door. The wife slammed it back. He slammed again. So did she.

On the fourth slam, Mrs. Mitchell's elbow went through the glass in the door. Her arm was cut. She went to court.

Assault and battery was out because Mitchell hadn't laid a finger on her. So she charged him with "assault with a grade door."

Justice of the Peace Randall C. Koehler decided yesterday the whole thing was an accident and acquitted.

Eisenhower Hails Vote

On Waterway

By James C. Munn

Washington (AP)—Congressional approval of the St. Lawrence Seaway after more than a half century of controversy was virtually assured last night, with prospects that ships from the seven seas will be able to sail as far inland as Toledo, Ohio.

Spurred in large measure by President Eisenhower's statement that the seaway is needed for national defense as well as for economic reasons, the House voted 241-158 to authorize this country to join Canada in building the channel.

All that remains is the adjustment of minor differences with the Senate bill before sending the measure on to Eisenhower for his signature.

Eisenhower, in a statement late yesterday, hailed the House vote as "the end of a long and historic effort." He said the seaway would "contribute materially to the economic well-being and security" of both the United States and Canada.

Senator Ferguson of Michigan, chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, predicted the Senate would accept the House version without further ado, which could place the completed bill before Eisenhower by Tuesday.

Proponents say construction of the seaway, which will take an estimated six years, will open up the prospect of great new economic development of the Great Lakes area and the Midwest.

When completed, the 27-foot-deep channel will enable ships of the Victory and Liberty classes, for example, to pass directly from the Atlantic Ocean to inland ports on the Great Lakes. Ships of this size have a cargo capacity of 10,000 tons.

The idea of the seaway, making it possible for much of the world's ocean-going shipping to sail the St. Lawrence, was first seriously put forth in 1895 and has been urged by every president since Woodrow Wilson.

Navigation of the river now is restricted to ships with a draft of 14 feet or less because of a 46-mile stretch of rapids near Ogdensburg, N. Y.

The legislation passed yesterday permits elimination of this shipping bottleneck through the digging of a canal—the "seaway"—27 feet deep.

The canal became a practical proposition only after the Federal Power Commission last year granted New York State a license to build, with the Province of Ontario, a giant 600-million-dollar hydroelectric project.

The granting of this license is now being contested in the courts, with indications that a decision may be reached by early summer or fall.

The U. S. Court of Appeals last Jan. 29 upheld the commission action. Opponents of the license, who include the Central Pennsylvania Coal Producers Assn., have not announced whether they plan to seek a Supreme Court review.

The hydro works, necessitating the damming of the rapids, would make the digging of the ship canal a relatively simple engineering operation. The power project also would have the effect of lessening the cost of the canal.

Husband Freed Of Assault On Wife With Door

Detroit (AP)—Gordon Mitchell, 27, was acquitted yesterday of assaulting his wife with the side door of their home.

It happened at 10:30 one night when Mitchell came home and found his wife, Margaret, 25, entertaining three other women with whom she likes to sing "barber shop" tunes.

The visitors left when Mitchell came home. Mrs. Mitchell went outside to bid them good night. Mitchell slammed the door. The wife slammed it back. He slammed again. So did she.

On the fourth slam, Mrs. Mitchell's elbow went through the glass in the door. Her arm was cut. She went to court.

Justice of the Peace Randall C. Koehler decided yesterday the whole thing was an accident and acquitted.

House Okays St. Lawrence Waterway

The U. S. share of constructing the seaway is estimated at 105 million dollars. Engineers estimate that Canada will be required to spend slightly more than 200 million dollars to build its part.

This country's share would be financed by the sale of 105 million dollars in revenue bonds to the Treasury, to be redeemed from the proceeds of tolls and other charges.

The St. Lawrence legislation, first presented to Congress 20 years ago, has been fought by railroads, Atlantic and Gulf Coast ports, coal producers and private power utilities.

All contended they would suffer economic harm from the seaway-power project.

Proponents, numbering in recent years at least—steel manufacturers, automobile makers, Midwest farm organizations, rural electric cooperatives and others, have disputed these claims, and argued at the same time that the project would bring them long overdue benefits.

Uppermost in providing congressional support for the proposal, however, was the view of President Eisenhower and the nation's top military leaders that the seaway is needed for national defense.

A principal point in this argument was that the canal will permit low cost transportation of rich Labrador iron ores to steel centers in the Midwest.

The Labrador ores, they said, are needed as a replacement for the deposits now nearing depletion in Lake Superior's Mesabi Range.

Because of channel and harbor limitations in the Upper Great Lakes—Michigan and Superior—the bigger ships will not be able to proceed beyond Toledo under present plans.

It is assumed that eventually Congress may authorize deepening of the channels and harbors to permit deep-draft shipping all the way to Duluth, Minn., at the head of the Great Lakes, although this is a matter for the distant future.

Those opposing passage of the seaway measure included 15 Republican and seven Democratic members of the Pennsylvania delegation. One of them is Rep. Joseph Carrigg (R-Pa.). Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.) was listed as paired against the bill.

Mr. and Mrs. John Jennings Jr. and son, John Herbert are moving into the former Heitler bungalow which Mrs. Jennings' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Baker purchased from William Heitler Sr. The five room bungalow has an interesting history. It was originally the McCarthy wheelwright shop. Some years ago Heitler converted it into a modern home and he and his wife resided there. It has been unoccupied for the past four years.

Miss Sandra Carlton has been helping Miss Camille Buzzard in the cancer drive on Cherry Valley Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Roberts of Tannersville were guests Saturday and Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Holland.

Mrs. George Hauser, Mrs. Herbert Baker and Mrs. Francis Drake were delegates Friday at the meeting of Lehigh Presbyterian in Easton.

Mrs. T. Koenig of East Elmhurst, Long Island, N. Y., spent the past week with her mother, Mrs. M. Schmidt and her brother, C. Schmidt, Mrs. Schmidt, who will be 80 in June, looks forward to a quiet birthday.

Miss Rosalyn Shellenberger has taken employment as relief waitress at a local diner.

Mr. and Mrs. John Cashmore, of Brooklyn, N. Y., are spending two months touring Europe. Cashmore is the brother of Mrs. John Brin, of Laurel Lodge.

The Girl Scouts were frozen out at their picnic planned for Lake Lenape Wednesday afternoon. They adjourned to the home of their leader, Mrs. Ruth Hauser where Eleanor Kulp, Susan Heitler, Sandra Carlton, Elizabeth Redzig and Diane Lightner proved their girl-scout cooking skill by roasting hotdogs over the embers of the living room fireplace.

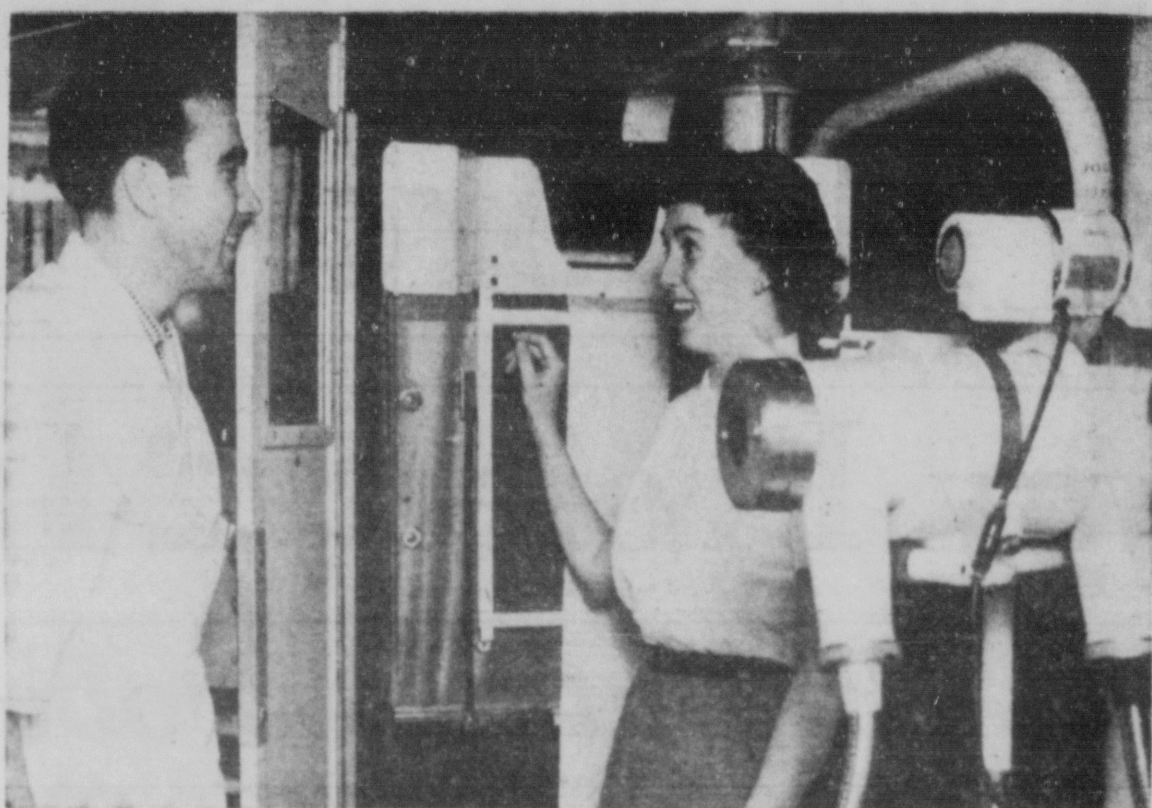

Fred Kellerman is recovering from an operation he underwent Wednesday morning at the General Hospital.

Mrs. S. Spears, of New York City, and Miss Stella Spears, of Tucson, Arizona, visited Mr. and Mrs. Paul Meixell over Sunday. Miss Spears will return in a week for another short visit before she goes to Chicago where, three weeks from now, she will be married to a Chicago attorney.

Birthday congratulations are in order for Mrs. Francis Drake Tuesday, May 4, and for Rev. Luther Markin on Thursday.

May 7 is the fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Kaiser. Mrs. Kaiser is the former Joan Hauser. They have a daughter, two-year-old Roxanne.

May 9 Mr. and Mrs. Hermann Snyder will celebrate their 17th wedding anniversary with children Carol, Gary, Linda and Ruth to help them.

Additional 521 Employees X-Rayed At Signal Depot

Free X-rays were given yesterday to 521 employees of Tobyhanna Signal Corps Depot.

The mobile X-ray unit stayed at the depot all day. Another 223 depot employees were X-rayed during Wednesday afternoon, bringing the total depot employees receiving X-rays to 744 in one and one-half days.

Yesterday's total also increases the total number of X-rays given since the start of the program to 1,964.

Today the mobile unit will spend its entire time in Stroudsburg. On Saturday it will be stationed in East Stroudsburg.

Here is the schedule for the next two days:
Today—At Wyckoff's Department Store, Stroudsburg, for the community. Three separate sessions: 11:30 a. m. to 1:30 p. m.; 2:30 to 5:30 p. m. and from 7 to 9 p. m.
Saturday—At East Stroudsburg Municipal Building all day. Three sessions: From 10 a. m. to noon; from 2 to 5 p. m. and from 7 to 9 p. m.

On Monday the unit will stop at Stroudsburg High School from 9:15 a. m. to 11:15 a. m. for students only. It will then move to Barrett Township school in Cresco for two sessions: From 2 to 5 p. m. and from 7 to 9 p. m. for both students and the community.

Good Weather Speeds Work On Turnpike

Harrisburg (AP) — Good weather conditions have enabled Pennsylvania Turnpike officials to issue an optimistic report on work on the 33-mile Delaware River extension.

Turnpike Commissioner David E. Watson last night said the western half of the extension may be opened by Aug. 1. "We're shooting for that goal," Watson said.

With work proceeding ahead of schedule on the new superhighway between King of Prussia and Route 611 north of Philadelphia, plans for the Northeastern Extension would presumably also be updated.

This extension — running 110 miles from Plymouth Meeting to north of Scranton — will also use for the first time on the turnpike a concrete barrier within the medial strip.

This barrier will be four feet wide and eight inches high. On curves, Watson said, a higher metal barrier may also be used. Watson indicated it will be left up to engineers to decide what kind of barrier is best for each location.

Calendar Gymnastics

Jumping from July to May, back to July and then to June, all in the space of about two weeks, is enough to tighten your mental processes to the aching, if not the breaking point. But it happened in the Poconos this week. Happily, after this bit of calendar gymnastics, Pennsylvania Highway Department saw the light and did what they should have done months ago—arranged to go around Rt. 90 project at Cresco which will save Barrett business over a half million dollars this year.

It took some prodding, but when there is an intelligent, aroused citizenry beating away on a sensitive election year with sound facts and figures, there can be only one answer. The lad's start juggling a "hot potato" and are only too willing to drop it after they are gently but firmly impressed with the fact they're about to get burned.

The Daily Record had no patience with the double-talking connected with this detour problem. This newspaper had no patience with the thought of a community losing over a half million dollars.

The State Highway Department plan to build a temporary road around the Cresco overpass project in time to use June 1 is entirely reasonable. The Daily Record believes the Barrett Township citizenry will accept that proposal.

We'd like, however, to pass on a word of caution to the State Highway Department. Don't try it next year.

Mental Health Programs

With a proclamation from Governor Fine as a take-off point. Mental Health Week is being observed throughout the commonwealth in an earnest endeavor to provide a more thorough understanding of the tremendous problems resulting from mental disturbances.

There is widespread concern over the increasing prevalence of mental illness throughout the state and nation, with full realization of financial burdens imposed on limited state health budgets by the number of individuals requiring treatment.

It has been estimated that in Pennsylvania alone there are more than 4800 mental health patients, and the number is not decreasing. Across the nation the cost of caring for such patients is counted in billions of dollars, with half of this sum represented by the cost of maintaining state mental hospitals, and the remainder for hospitalization, treatment, and the payment of disability compensation to mentally disturbed veterans.

However, there is a more optimistic side to the picture, stemming largely from recent medical discoveries which indicate that many patients formerly considered hopeless cases can be cured if sufficient hospitals are equipped and staffed to undertake vigorous therapeutic programs.

Action to improve state mental hospitals, which receive no direct Federal support, dates from the 1949 Governors' Conference which called attention to the wretched conditions in many state institutions. Subsequent legislation has resulted in better facilities and somewhat larger staffs but the advances still fall far short of meeting estimated needs.

Robert S. Allen Reports

New Look Foreign Trade Policy Is Established

Washington — The Administration has a "new look" foreign trade policy. One of its main objectives is to expand trade with Russia.

This unannounced development came to light at a closed-door meeting between Foreign Aid Administrator Harold Stassen and the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

The Minnesota surprise disclosure drew an immediate barrage of critical questions from Republican committeemen. The Democrats, for the most part, said little and let the aroused GOP do the grilling.

Stassen appeared before the potent Senate committee to report on his trip to London. He told the apparently startled committeemen:

"The U. S. has joined with Britain, France and other Western allies in a plan to increase trade with Russia in an effort to reduce its concentration on armament production."

Toward that end, the Soviet will be required to ship goods abroad as well as to import them.

The U. S. has agreed to remove a number of strategic items from the UN embargo list, among them machine tools, tractors, railroad equipment, fishing vessels, pharmaceuticals and certain chemicals.

Stassen also admitted to the senators that (1) the State Department knew in advance about Britain's intention to sell rubber to Red China, and (2) that this Communist power has imported more than $40,000,000 in banned strategic supplies in the past year from free nations.

One Republican committeeman was so angered by what he heard that he has sent a copy of the transcript of this meeting to Senator Joe McCarthy. The Wisconsin has repeatedly denounced trade with Communists.

The following highlights of Stassen's caustic interrogation were taken from the unpublished transcript.

Under fire — Senator Homer Ferguson (R., Mich.), was in the forefront in opposing the "new look" foreign trade policy.

He bluntly declared it didn't make sense to him.

"What I want to know," he demanded, "is who proposed this new trade policy?"

"Some of the Western European countries," explained Stassen. "At the same time, there was a re-analysis of East-West trade within our own Administration."

"Then you went over to London," said Ferguson, "and had a meeting at which it was decided to send consumer goods to Russia to help it out of its troubles?"

Stassen protested, "That is not quite the correct description."

"What we did," he declared, "was to adopt a policy aimed at George Sokolsky Says . . .

Reds Have Fellow Travelers, Innocents But Somehow They Win All Conferences

Apparently the Russians have their troubles too. Comrades P. Plotnikov and A. Lipatov wrote in "Pravda": "Comrade Stalin teaches that it is necessary: 'To remember and never forget that as long as there is capitalist encirclement there will be saboteurs, wreckers, spies and terrorists sent to the Soviet Union's home front by intelligence agencies of foreign states, to remember this and to wage a struggle against comrades who under estimate the importance of the fact of capitalist encirclement, who underestimate the forces and significance of sabotage.'"

The reason for all this is that somebody is stealing documents. Plotnikov and A. Lipatov warn against the spies and saboteurs who steal documents and give them to Americans. To quote them further:

"With these aims, the imperialists expend tremendous sums on intensifying subversive activity in the U.S.S.R. and the people's democracies. As is known, the American government officially allocated $100,000,000 in 1951 to finance the operations of spies, saboteurs and wreckers in the U.S.S.R. and the people's democracies . . ."

The Russians do not have Congressional committees and there is nobody like Joe McCarthy around to arouse the workers and peasants, but the Russians do arouse the populace to spy on the spies. This is not a new approach to the subject because even in old Czarist days, many people spied on their neighbors and were well rewarded and in the early Bolshevik days, children were encouraged to spy on the bourgeois or kulak parents. But this passage of Plotnikov and Lipatov does sound almost like something that one of us of the anti-Communist movement might have written:

"Each Soviet patriot—worker, collective farmer, member of the intelligentsia — considers it his duty, if he sees an enemy, to help the workers of state security to catch that enemy. Thanks to the vigilance of Soviet patriots in the years of the great patriotic war and in the postwar period, many spies, saboteurs and murderers who made their way into our country were exposed and disarmed."

It appears that G. L. Zaslavsky, assistant chief of the Geology Ministry's department of records of reserves, which is a big name for stockpiling, took home a vial of records and permitted them to pass through his hands. No apparatus is named similar to the Fuchs-Rosenberg operation at Los Alamos or the Rosenberg operation at Fort Monmouth, but the nation is warned about security risks.

Look at what they say about the scientists: "Some comrades who are engaged in scientific research are thoughtless in utilizing secret information and try to show off with it in their writings, thereby harming the cause of preservation of state secrets. That is what N. G. Kozharyev, formerly assistant chief of a chief administration of the Ministry of the Oil Industry, did. He used secret data without the knowledge of the ministry officials and published them in his dissertation.

"It must be borne in mind that the enemy may use the slightest loophole, any bit of carelessness, to cause harm and to do his dirty work. Talkativeness, criminal carelessness in safeguarding secret documents, tolerance of instances of moral corruption—the infuriated and cunning enemy tries to utilize everything."

This might be a suggestion to Senator McCarthy, when he resumes his investigations. Are they subversive or just showing off? That is altogether a novel explanation—a scientist likes to write dissertations as a columnist likes to write columns. It is a way of telling the world that he is also among the living. Is showing off a criminal offense? Instead of pleading the Fifth Amendment, a scientist might say "When I gave away the secrets of the hydrogen bomb, I wasn't subversive; I was only showing off."

I just can't help quoting one more bit of this Plotnikov and Lipatov article. It reads so like here at home: "We have another enemy besides the enemy's agents—the gullibility of our people. We have developed many gullible and careless people. It is the gullibility and carelessness of our people which constitutes nourishing soil for spies and saboteurs. As long as we have gullible and careless people there will be wrecking. That means that to liquidate sabotage it is necessary to put an end to gullibility and carelessness in our ranks."

They have fellow travelers and innocents, too. But somehow they win all the conferences in spite of all that.

On Broadway

—by Walter Winchell

Memos of the Editors

The incident at the pre-noon McCarthy-Army hearings, in which an alleged psycho was forcibly ejected by Senate Police, started when a man who said he was Herbert Perfit (of 1188 Grand Concourse, the Bronx, N. Y.) left the spectator section and took a press seat next to ours. . . . We had left the caucus room to make a telephone call to the New York Mirror and when we returned we learned Perfit had thumbed his nose at Sen. McCarthy and prolonged his raucous laughter when the spectators had laughed at something that was said.

Several reporters were questioning Perfit when we returned to get our chair. . . . "Who are you?" we asked him. . . . "I'm a spy!" he rejoined loudly, and then quickly added: "For the United States Government!" . . . Then he queried: "Who are you? A reporter?" . . . "No," we said in subdued tones, "I'm a spy, too. Come on outside!" . . . He refused to budge. . . . A Senate cop had heard enough and forcibly ejected him.

In the corridor we asked Perfit: "How did you get in?"

He said: "With my pass from Governor Lehman. We are lodge brothers. I know Meyer Berger of the New York Times, too. Don't you like Governor Lehman?" . . . We asked him to show us his pass in the elevator enroute to Police Lt. Edward Adams' office. He said: "It's in my pocket!" . . . He also said that he had a nephew in the Army at Camp Mead, whose name, he said, was Pvt. Herbert Wetschler of 914 Park Avenue, N. Y. . . . He demanded that his nephew be his lawyer. . . . When police looked for the nephew they were told he had gone back to his camp.

In the lower corridor enroute to the police office Perfit suddenly broke out into tears and cried: "I haven't slept for six days and six nights because of these things!" . . . We asked him why he came down. . . . He said: "To break up the mess!" . . . He had left a briefcase or small valise in the hall because nobody is allowed to carry packages into the caucus room. . . . He was finally taken away for mental observation. . . . The Senate Police, it should be added, are not allowed to search spectators or anyone. . . . All of them impress you with their extreme courtesy.

This Hick Town of Ours: After the incident a police exec asked us: "Do you know that man?" . . . "No, Sir, I don't." . . . "You don't?" he replied in amazed tones. "Why, he's from New York!"

The Sen. McCarthy-Alcoa quarrel over "Who's going to pay for the Senator's reply to Ed Murrow?" up to date: Sen McCarthy believes Alcoa is responsible for the cost, since it was a commercial program exploiting the name Alcoa at the beginning and at the end. . . . "If they don't pay it," he said, "I will sue."

The letter to General Belling (about Reds and pro-Commies at New Jersey Gov't radar places), which is being argued about, is in this column's possession, too. . . . At the Tuesday hearings when the special counsels Welch and Jenkins and Army Sec'y Stevens said: "It is marked personal and confidential and so I wouldn't even read the text," we said to reporters near us: "Nothing is personal and confidential to me when it concerns spies and the welfare of our country. I wish I could get a copy of it!"

Shortly after, when we left the room, a copy was stuck in our hand by some eavesdropper. . . . We immediately contacted John Edgar Hoover and told him we had it. . . . The top G-man appeared angry. . . . "Where did you get it?" he demanded.

"I can't tell you, Mr. Hoover," we said. "I just want to know if I make it public, will you arrest me?"

With the grimmest tones he ever used on me, he replied: "Yes."

A Pulitzer Prize Winner this week got his decoration for being an enterprising reporter. . . . He won because he exclusively dug up a top secret letter dealing with a red spy—Harry Dexter White.

Why wasn't he arrested?

The paragraph here yesterday about the storm and lightning almost striking the Carroll Arms Hotel apartment occupied by Roy Cohn brought his office over 200 telephone calls (pro and con) in the Washington area alone. The majority were pro. He is a popular person, regardless of what you read by his detractors, many of whom have good reason to fear him. . . . The Washington Post, which recently merged with the Times Herald, is considering dropping its former competitor's name entirely. It has already started to print it in smaller letters. . . . The merger lifted the Washington Post's circulation to over 330,000. Before the merger it was a little over 200,000. . . .

Looking At Life —by Erich Brandeis

At the Children's Zoo in New York's Central Park I picked up a little 14-page Farm Dictionary which is sold there for three cents.

Apparently the management of the Zoo wants New York children to become interested in farming.

On the last page of the dictionary appears this "poem": "At the Zoo you saw a Gnu. 'At the farm you'll see a Eve. 'If you think we cannot spell. 'You can just go straight to— 'The Gate Attendant and ask for a FARM Dictionary."

(I don't know why this advice, when the kid already had one.)

Gosh, what a racket, I thought to myself! Somebody is getting paid for turning out stuff like this, just like somebody is getting paid for that so-called "poetry" that appears in the newspapers and magazines.

It seemed to me that almost anybody with a rhyming dictionary and a gaping pocketbook should be able to write poetry.

I tried it—I thought I'd make some extra money that way, and if there was enough in it, why write six columns a week when with one fell swoop I might write something like the Odyssey or a bunch of greeting cards and get rich.

I looked at my Vocabulary of Rhymes, (one of these appears at the back of almost any good dictionary), and went to work.

The first word I looked for was, of course, "love." More poetry has been written on that one subject than on all the others together, so that with so much apparent demand, a little more supply should not do any harm.

"Dove, dove, above, above, love, turtle dove," were the words given to rhyme with love, so I started.

"Dear turtle dove, come be my love," I wrote, "take off your glove, give me a shove."

So far, so good. Now what does one do after one's sweetheart gives one a shove?

A much-beaten pugilist announced his intention to retire from the ring, but his manager, sensing the loss of a fair-to-middling meal ticket, sought to dissuade him. A fading actress in Hollywood, whose pretensions and demands become increasingly insufferable as her box office and sex appeal diminish, was stopped in her tracks recently by a supporting player who told her loudly, "I just saw your last picture, dearie—and I wouldn't be surprised if it was!"

Vacation Bureau Sets Up Big Pocono Development Group

PMVB Elects Arneberg As New President

Henry Arneberg, operator of the Sterling, in South Sterling, was named president of the Pocono Mountains Vacation Bureau last night.

He succeeds Jack Shinn of Vacation Valley.

Other officers named at the meeting at Penn-Stroud Hotel were: Edward Jenkins of Buck Hill Falls and Harry Ahnert of The Fernwood, vice-presidents; Mrs. Victoria Fossa, Merry Hill Lodge, secretary; and Gerald P. O'Neill, Penn Stroud proprietor, treasurer. O'Neill's was the only reelection.

The officers will serve for the 1954-1955 season.

A high-point of the session was presentation of a possible hotel and resort development on Big Pocono.

The State is moving ahead on development of the scenic mountaintop into a park area for public use, O'Neill told the group.

Then he revealed that the State has invited resorts and hotels to join in developing a portion of the large acreage on the mountain for the use of the public.

It would amount to having two picnic grounds on the mountain—one for public use, maintained by the State and built by the State; and the other for private use, built and maintained by the resorts.

O'Neill said Rinker and Keifer, Stroudsburg architects, are preparing plans to show what the development might look like if undertaken. The plans have not yet been finished.

Cost of the project would depend on how extensive it was: a shelter would be the most expensive item, Mr. O'Neill said. Estimated cost runs around $10 a square foot of floor space.

R. LeRoy Dengler added his voice to O'Neill's in suggesting that Vacation Bureau members undertake a study of the possibility of developing an area.

A "Big Pocono Development Committee" was set up with O'Neill as chairman. Other officers: Dengler, vice-chairman; members, Elwood Huffman, Charles Gessinger, Ed Strickland, and LeRoy Guecini.

Named to serve on the bureau's executive committee as members at large were Strickland and Guecini.

Delaware Water Gap information booth will be moved this season to Portland Garage on the east side of Route 46, south of the New Jersey entrance to the Portland Bridge.

Directors instructed Executive Secretary Harold Swenson to wire Gov. John S. Fine and Highways Secretary Ed Schmidt at once, requesting immediate State action on building a detour road around the Cresco railroad overpass; to have detour signs removed as soon as possible; and to have ordinary "Road Under Construction" signs instead.

Edward C. Jenkins made a standing tribute to William Altier as president of the Eastern Poconos Association for the cooperation of that group with the Vacation Bureau.

A treasurer's report showed a balance of $6,074.63.

Directors saw a revised PMVB folder on the Poconos. Some 50-600 copies have been run off and are ready for distribution to prospective vacationers. The folder uses colored printing and color photos.

A Blair Academy Alumni Bulletin was also exhibited. It carries color photos of Pocono scenes on its front and back covers, and has four pages inside showing hotel accommodations and scenic views of the Poconos. Swenson said 25-600 of the bulletins were printed. Color photos were given by the PMVB.

Rites Conducted For Mrs. Fossa

High requiem mass was celebrated yesterday at St. Mary's of the Mount Church, Mount Pocono, for Mrs. Theresa Fossa, 75, Cresco, with Rev. Robert Galligan as celebrant.

Rev. Edward Collins, C.S.S.R., served as deacon; Rev. Vincent Harrity was subdeacon. A grandson, Allen Fossa, was an altarboy.

Burial was at Laurelwood Cemetery, Clark funeral home, Stroudsburg, was in charge of arrangements.

The rosary was recited at the funeral home Wednesday night.

GERALD P. O'NEILL shows three other Vacation Bureau members maps and plans of proposed resort picnic ground development atop Big Pocono. At meeting later, committee was appointed to study idea. ## Dyson Home Threatened By Blaze

Pocono Pines—About $300 damage resulted here at noon yesterday when fire of undetermined origin swept through the attic in the Freeman Dyson home.

Tobyhanna Township volunteer firemen were credited with saving the structure, responding immediately after summoned.

Mrs. Dyson, who spotted the blaze, said no wiring was located in the attic of the single dwelling, and no explanation can be given for the fire's origin.

Shortly after the fire was extinguished, Dyson and neighbors were at work repairing the roof.

Cancer Drive In Township Nears Close

Kunkletown—The annual drive for funds to help support the work of the American Cancer Society is nearly completed in Eldred Township.

Those who are helping with this collection drive include the following: Gloria Pensol, Lorraine Berger, Roger Bohner, Mrs. Hattie Kuehner, Mrs. Floyd Berger, Mrs. Jacob Hawk, Mrs. Alma Zettlemoyer, Mrs. Willard Ziegenfuss, Mrs. Weldon Everett, Mrs. Ellwood Shupp, Mrs. Raymond Smith, Mrs. Harold Berger, Mrs. Jacob Meekes, Mrs. Helen Andrews, Mrs. Floyd M. Smith, Mrs. Wilbert Kleintop, Mrs. Leon Nicholas and Mrs. Floyd Wilmoth.

Mahlon Brish Honored At Rites

Services for Mahlon Brish, 97, former Mount Zion resident, were held yesterday at Clark funeral home, Stroudsburg, with Rev. Ralph Feltham officiating. Burial was at Stroudsburg Cemetery.

Mr. Brish died Tuesday morning at POS of A home at Chalfont, Pa. Pallbearers were Robert Bates, C. A. Coleman, George Hallett, Jeffrey Halterman, Claude E. Metzgar, Harry Miller, all members of Analomink lodge, POS of A, of which Mr. Brish was the last charter member. The lodge held services Wednesday night at the funeral home.

About 72 per cent of the U. S. labor force worked on farms in 1920, but only 12 per cent worked on farms in 1950.

Reunion Of Father And Son Not Without Costly Results

A father and son operating separate vehicles and traveling in opposite directions had a reunion at 7:10 a. m. yesterday—one that resulted in $1100 damages to both cars.

Stroudsburg State police investigated the accident on Franklin Hill Road near East Stroudsburg that involved a truck driven by Frederick B. Forke, East Stroudsburg RD 3 and a car operated by his son, Ronald, 17.

The youth told police he was temporarily blinded by the sun and did not see his father's truck ahead. The car collided with the left rear of the truck, damaging the auto about $800 and the truck, an estimated $300.

Young Forke suffered a bruised right knee and multiple abrasions in the mishap. His father took him to the office of Dr. Marshall Metzgar, Stroudsburg for treatment.

Scranton Man Charged With Stealing $60 From Woman

Charged with stealing $60 from a woman in an East Stroudsburg tavern, Donald J. McDonald, 26, of Scranton, was held in Monroe County jail yesterday.

Hazel Bachman, about 45, of 205 S. Crystal St., East Stroudsburg, charged that McDonald took an envelope containing the money from her while she was talking with him in the tavern at about 1:30 a. m. Wednesday.

At a hearing before Justice of the Peace Herbert G. Bonser, East Stroudsburg, two Stroudsburg men testified they went to a Stroudsburg diner with McDonald where he bought them food with one of three $20 bills. The witnesses were listed as Harold Adams, 29, of 90 Third St., and William McWilliams, 24, of 40 Third St.

McDonald was arrested at the diner by police shortly after the theft was reported. Bail was set at $500, on a charge of larceny.

Pocono FFA Has Election

Tannersville—Larry Butz has been named new president of the Pocono High School Future Farmers of America chapter.

Other officers elected were: Bob Richards, vice president; Pat Pudeto, secretary; Jim Wagner, treasurer; Norbert Vishnesky, reporter, and Don Everett, sentinel.

Sixth Graders To Visit N.Y.

Portland—Pupils in the sixth grade at the local school are scheduled to leave here today for a bus trip to New York where they will visit the Museum of Natural History and Hayden Planetarium.

Accompanying the group will be Miss Ruth Williams, teacher, Mrs. Pearl Carrella, school nurse, Mrs. Irvin Henry, Mrs. Salvatore Patti, Mrs. Edward Felter, Mrs. Lewis Ponnett, Mrs. Lois Houck, Mrs. J. A. Kessler and Mrs. Martin Kithcart.

Pedestrian Lanes To Be Painted

An order to paint heavy white pedestrian-walk channel lines on Main St. at street intersections has been unanimously approved by Stroudsburg Council.

Back of the decision is a two-fold aim.

First, council hopes the heavy white lines will afford greater protection to pedestrians crossing the streets.

Second, they expect that police will be able to break up a damaging habit of blocking street intersections so that cars cannot either get out Second, Third, Fourth and Eighth Streets, where there are no traffic signals.

Decision was made after council studied a letter from Ray Price, operator of a garage at Fourth and Main Sts. for a traffic signal to control traffic at that point.

Price said several accidents have happened because of lack of traffic signal control, and that cars attempting to leave Fourth St. almost always find during heavy traffic flow that cars have choked off the crossing.

Since State Highway approval for such a signal is required and since the borough has been turned down frequently for a traffic light at Second St., council decided not to even apply for the light.

Basis for state's refusal to approve a signal at Second St. is that the street dead-ends on Main St. Fourth St. is practically a dead-end on Main also.

An attempt to break up the crossing blockades will therefore be made with the pedestrian crosswalks heavy lined with white. Police will also move against those who ignore the white lines and block intersections.

Council approved sale of a tract of land east of the Ko-Lax plant and bounded by Broadheads Creek, to Stroudsburg Septic Tank Co. for $325.

The price was $25 over an appraisal made for council by Walter H. Dreher, Stroudsburg realtor, who said in filing a $300 appraisal figure that land is subject to frequent flooding when Broadheads Creek is high.

Septic Tank had made an offer of $100 for the land a month ago, but council decided to get an appraisal. Clifford Heller, an officer of the firm, said at the time the first offer was made the firm did not even have an exact knowledge of the acreage.

A written offer of $300 for the land was received from Nathan Abelloff.

Heller said his firm needs the land for future expansion. A nearby tract was recently given to Septic Tank Co. without cost by Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce. At that time the firm announced plans for expansion.

The first distilling processes for crude oil averaged about 12 per cent of gasoline from crude compared to 45 per cent with modern cracking processes.

Development Of Devil's Hole Tract Seen As Great Boon To Sportsmen In Future

The 4,000-acre tract in Paradise, Barrett and Tobyhanna Townships known as Devil's Hole will prove a boon to sportsmen in future generations, B. K. Williams, East Stroudsburg resident and Pennsylvania Game Commission member, said yesterday.

Williams predicted the recently acquired land will mean a great deal as years progress, pointing out that posting of private lands in recent years has dwindled places where sportsmen may hunt and fish.

Speaking before the Rotary Club meeting at the Penn-Stroud Hotel, Williams explained how Devil's Hole was purchased from the Department of Forest and Waters in exchange for Big Pocono.

Devil's Hole is an ideal place for deer, bear and grouse hunting, the commissioner said. He also explained the State's recent decision to locate a turkey hardening pen there. He defined this as the educational period for turkeys, saying about 50 acres will be fenced in and from 600 to 700 turkeys placed there at two weeks old.

Another section comprising about two acres will be utilized as exploring grounds for the young birds, Williams said. Here they will learn to seek out their own water and food before being released at 10 weeks.

The thrill of bagging turkey, he feels, will be even greater than that of buck deer, noting Pennsylvania is far ahead in its growth of turkeys as game birds.

In 1953, Williams said, about 20,000 deer hunters converged on Monroe County and bagged 1,216 bucks and doe. It has been figured, he said, that sportsmen took home about $189,600 in game from Monroe County last year.

Pennsylvania has a million acres of land set aside for the Game Commission, Williams reported. Much revenue also is derived from these forests through the sale of lumber, the collecting of fines and fees for coal and gas rights on State property.

Big Pocono, Williams said, formerly was Game Commission property. He termed this section one of the brightest spots in the State for establishment of a State Park.

Department of Forest and Waters officials currently are planning the construction of two 60-by-150-foot shelters atop Big Pocono, and will have a road constructed around the mountain base. Also scheduled for construction are numerous fireplaces where families may picnic, he said.

Williams reported the transfer of properties entailed an additional cost of $45,000 to the Game Commission for Devil's Hole. This amount, he said, was accepted as the responsibility of the National Association of Game Commissioners after he and another State commissioner traveled to Milwaukee, Wis., and asked for their assistance.

Williams praised the cooperation of Gov. John S. Fine in securing Devil's Hole for game lands. He termed it the best sportsmen's haven in the state, pointing out that in addition to an abundance of wild game, the 4,000 acres also contain six miles of good trout stream where 7,000 trout were stocked this season.

New Test Provides Rapid Check On Possible Effectiveness Of Salk-Younger Polio Vaccine

By Frank Carey
AP Science Reporter

Pittsburgh (AP)—The developers of the new polio vaccine now under test or about to be tested in 45 states, announced they have also developed a new and "simple" test — employing color changes — to furnish a rapid check on the vaccine's possible effectiveness.

Dr. John E. Salk and Dr. J. S. Youngner of the University of Pittsburgh said the new technique made possible "many more tests" than previously possible in a given time and allowed a great saving of laboratory work.

They said the test is designed to determine in a given case whether the vaccine is acting in a way theoretically thought to be protective.

And Dr. Salk told a reporter it was aimed at determining "how many inoculations are required and the optimal interval between injections so that, if indicated, changes in the spacing of inoculations will be made in future studies, although not during this year's field trials."

Salk said information concerning the new technique has already been made available through the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis to the cooperating evaluating laboratories taking part in the nationwide field trial of the vaccine.

In brief, the test consists of mixing a sample of a vaccinated child's blood serum with viruses and certain other materials in a test tube which originally shows a red color. The test tube is then placed in an incubator for seven days.

If the tube is still colored red, it means that the child hasn't sufficient theoretically protective antibodies against polio virus. If, on the other hand, the color of the mixture turns yellow, that means that theoretically at least, the child has a protective level of immunity.

Key substances in the test tube are monkey kidney tissues cells, and a known quantity of polio virus.

The idea is this: If the child's blood serum doesn't contain "antibodies" at a sufficient level, the virus in the test tube will kill the kidney cells.

And the red-colored material which is part of the so-called "culture" medium will remain unchanged.

If, on the other hand, the child's blood serum does contain antibodies, these will prevent the virus in the tube from killing the kidney cells. These will then grow and in so doing will release an acid which will change red color to yellow.

Dr. Salk explained that the new technique is somewhat of a reverse of the old technique wherein the kidney cells were first allowed to grow, and then virus and blood serum were added later.

In that test, it was necessary to employ a microscope for detailed study to determine whether kidney cells had been killed.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Business establishments often have the same problems as housewives, it seems at times. Take the newspaper getting out a special edition. Reminds me of getting ready for company at home, in a way.

There are always all the extra things to do—and by forethought you can start in on them early enough to get them done—that is if you didn't have to keep living in the house—or getting out today's paper, whichever case you're involved in.

Some days when the house is spic and span, and the flowers in their vases and tomorrow's dinner planned and even the dessert made, it would be wonderful just to close the door and leave it that way until the company got there the next afternoon.

But a family comes home hungry and needs to be fed. They spend some active hours outdoors raking the lawn and grubbing around in the dirt and come in again, wearily dragging strands of grass with them. They take baths and use the clean towels. And, unless warned specifically, are apt to eat up some of the dessert for a bed-time snack.

And a newspaper office gets just as hectic. News keeps right on happening, whether you're working on day after tomorrow or not. There are pages to be filled and headlines to be written and copy to be set.

Always a relief to have the company arrive and the special edition get out without any major catastrophe like the sink stopping up or the press breaking down.

Garden Club Board Plans May Meeting

A garden meeting was planned for May by the executive board of the Monroe County Garden Club at their meeting yesterday afternoon at the Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church.

The board voted to contribute $5 to the Hawk Mountain Bird Sanctuary. It was announced that Mrs. John Teisher and Mrs. Oscar Liljenstein had arranged the flowers for the Nurses Symposium held at the General Hospital. The flowers were given by Mrs. Teisher and LaBar's Rhododendron Nursery.

Mrs. Elwood Grant reported progress in the work of the Wild Flower Sanctuary located at the LaBar Rhododendron Nursery. One of the most recent acquisitions was a painted trillium, a gift of Girl Scout Troop 29 of Marshalls Creek. Many other wild flowers have been transplanted there, she reported.

Mrs. Oscar Liljenstein presided at the meeting when plans were discussed for the meeting on May 20 which will be held in the garden of Mrs. R. B. Irwin, Bushkill. Mrs. Irwin will also be in charge of the program when she will talk on "Mosses and Ferns."

Transportation will be arranged for anyone wishing to attend. They may call Mrs. David Shiffer, 1719-W to make arrangements.

Mrs. LeRoy Bush presented the name of a new member: Mrs. Henry Acker, of East Stroudsburg RD 3, sponsored by Mrs. Ida Paulson.

Those present at the meeting were: Mrs. Liljenstein, Mrs. Ray Osborn, Mrs. Edgar Van Why, Mrs. Grant, Mrs. A. H. Mathieson, Mrs. Russell Harmon, Mrs. John Teisher, Mrs. Eli Travis, Mrs. LeRoy Bush, Mrs. Ralph Moeck and Mrs. Russell E. Hamblin.

Altar Society Plans Bake Sale, May Dinner

A bake sale to be held on Friday at Wyckoff's store at 1 p.m. was the most immediate activity reviewed by the executive board of the Altar and Rosary Society of St. Matthew's R. C. Church at their meeting held Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. Edward Driebe, 510 Thomas St.

Mrs. William Tarr is chairman of the bake sale and will be assisted by Mrs. Stephen Choberka, Mrs. Arthur Frantz Sr., Mrs. Arthur Blewitt and Mrs. Theodore Viechnicki. Members having baked goods they wish to have called for may call Mrs. Tarr at 2486.

Mrs. Theodore Viechnicki presided at the meeting when plans for the May dinner were also discussed. Mrs. William Lopez, general chairman, announced that she was being assisted by Mrs. Frank Cracolei in arrangements; Mrs. Walter Gretkowski, tickets; Mrs. George Rung, music; Mrs. A. Henning, program; Mrs. A. Fry, hospitality; Mrs. R. Nevil, publicity. Members are asked to return the cards they received not later than the final deadline May 14.

The board learned that the Sunday missels purchased by the society have arrived and will be placed in the pews within the next two weeks.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Driebe, Mrs. Rung, Mrs. Blewitt, Mrs. William Hannas, Mrs. Gerald Shanley Sr., and Mrs. Henry Hefele from candlelit tables, centered by lilacs and tulips.

Attending were Miss Clara Lombardi, Mrs. Adolph Oppel, Mrs. A. M. Hickey, Mrs. Thomas Leonard, Mrs. William Schroeder, Mrs. A. Fry, Mrs. A. Henning, Mrs. Nevil and Mrs. Theodore Viechnicki.

Sittigs Back From Florida

Miss Margaret V. Sittig and her father, Frederick V. Sittig, have returned to their home in Neola after combining a series of successful recitals in Florida with their winter vacation.

Among their final concerts were the ones given at Semmes Chapel, Graham-Eckes School, Palm Beach, and one at the First Methodist Church, Sebring, Fla.

St. Mary's Guild Plan Rummage Sale

St. Mary's Guild of Christ Episcopal Church opened with devotion led by Mrs. Florence Calkins at their meeting on Tuesday afternoon at the parish hall. Mrs. Frank Reusswig, president, presided at the business session.

The guild planned a rummage sale for May 26, 27 and 28 at 334 Main St., Stroudsburg. The cancer dressing group will meet in the parish house on May 13 from 11 to 3.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. James R. Gavin, Mrs. Otto G. Heins, and Mrs. L. H. Cross.

Theresa Bruno Is Bride Of Donald Grillo

Bangor — Miss Theresa Bruno, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bruno Sr., of Bangor RD3, became the bride of Dominic Grillo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Grillo of Easton, on May 1 at 10 a.m. at St. Roch's Catholic Church, West Bangor.

Rev. J. P. Gallagher, E.M., performed the ceremony with Mrs. John Williams as organist and Pauline Auliso as soloist with the church choir.

Rose Mariano was the maid of honor and Mary Cozzubio and Rose Gigliotti were bridesmaids. They all wore gowns of white nylon net trimmed with blue.

The maid of honor wore a cap of blue lilies of the valley, and the bridesmaids caps of blue shatter carnations. They carried prayer books covered with blue mauline with flowers.

The bride's gown was of imported French Chantilly lace and nylon tulle. She carried a prayer book with a white orchid and stephanotis.

Gene Pascoli was best man and Frank Bruno Jr., brother of the bride and Anthony Amato were ushers.

A reception was held in the Blue Valley Farm Show building following the ceremony. After a wedding trip to Florida, they will make their home with the bride's parents until Mr. Grillo is out of service. He is serving in the Navy and is stationed at Boston, Mass. on the USS Columbus.

GOOD EVENING!

One of the several places one can go for an enjoyable evening outside of Stroudsburg is ONAWA LODGE, on Route No. 90, in Mountainhome, only 16 easy driving miles from the Boroughs.

Get away from the "usual routine" and benefit from a cool evening with friends in a congenial atmosphere. The Onawa Trio is now playing for dancing on Friday nights without any special cover or minimum charges, and the quality of the food and beverage service is comparable to that which you are accustomed in any first class hotel.

Dinner is served daily between 6:30 and 7:30 P.M. (D.S.T.). An attractive Cocktail Hour, featuring special canapes, begins at 5:30 P.M. (Bar is closed on Sundays.) A choice of entrees is provided and reservations for Dinner are suggested but not a requisite. Further information may be obtained by calling Cresco 3311.

We firmly believe that you will tell your friends about the nice time you had at ONAWA LODGE. The Pocono Playhouse will not open until later on, but after Dinner you might enjoy seeing the scheduled motion pictures at nearby Buck Hill (usually Mon.-Wed.-Fri.-Sat.)

Enjoy an evening "away from town" at a nominal expense. We invite you to join our guests for cocktails and a wonderful dinner.

Come on up and bring your friends. Enjoy a different "night out."

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

In their book "Stillmeadow and Sugarbridge" Gladys Taber and Barbara Webster have an interesting discussion of motherhood. It all begins when Mrs. Taber mentions that it is a wonderful, almost unbelievable thing to suddenly look at your daughter and find her grown—no longer your sparring partner, as it were, but your friend.

She admits that not all was cream and sugar in rearing her daughter, Connie—that on many occasions there was a clash of ideas, when she was all but ready to throw her in the sponge. Then, after all the antagonisms of the teens, when mother is invariably looked down upon from very superior heights, you awake one morning to new potentials of friendship that neither of you had ever thought possible.

Barbara Webster answers by bringing up the point that today's mothers are in a very difficult situation. Their own mothers were the happy ones. They ruled their broods at a time when mother's word was law and her opinions usually went unchallenged. Today all parents—and particularly mothers—have a sense of inferiority. They are almost afraid to make a dogmatic statement or a drastic decision because every psychologist across the nation is waiting for the opportunity to say, "There now, you've gone and done exactly the wrong thing again."

I'm inclined to agree with her, are you? I'm not sure that when you put electric washers, dryers and ironers alongside the hand turned wooden tub, clothesline and hand iron of yesterday that modern mothers have a tougher time. I'm not sure that today's bobby-soxers are any more difficult to understand than the flappers of an earlier era. And I suppose puppy love and adolescence have ever been the same . . . but it is true, isn't it, that when you and I were young not everything we did was blamed on something that happened to us in childhood. When you and I took the wrong road and fell flat on our face, it was WE who did it. It wasn't because Mom or Dad had given us a push some twenty years before with an unkind word that gave us a feeling of inferiority.

This coming Sunday is Mother's Day, and we'll be showering the gentle soul with cards, flowers, candy, and other gifts—from Wyckoff's naturally. We'll tell her she's wonderful . . . kind . . . good . . . and wise. But we won't fool mother one little bit. She's fully aware that the nation's psychologists have already pegged her somewhere below these standards. She's actually a misguided woman who has probably built up dozens of tensions and emotional nerve blocks in her children. In other words, she's the brow-beaten individual whose sons and daughters are still clinging to her apron strings aided and abetted by hundreds of doctors with high flung words and ideas.

Poor Mom . . . which goes to say poor me, too, and probably poor you. Ours is a sorry lot . . . but what, in the name of heaven, would the world do without us?

A CHALLENGE to J. RUSSELL ESHBACK

BUSHKILL, PENNA.
CANDIDATE FOR STATE SENATOR

May 1, 1954

Dear Mr. Eshback:

In a paid political advertisement inserted in this newspaper in its issue of May 1st, 1954 advancing your candidacy for State Senator from the 14th Senatorial District, you stated that you had the following endorsement:

"Endorsed by the Republican State Organization"

Such a statement, as you very well know, is ABSOLUTELY UNTRUE and I CHALLENGE YOU to produce evidence of the same.

So that the reading public is not deceived, here are the true facts:

1. The Republican State Organization and its Chairman, M. Harvey Taylor, have NOT endorsed any candidate for the State Senate from the 14th Senatorial District.
2. Lloyd Wood, the Republican Organization Candidate for Governor, and his fellow "Harmony Candidates" for statewide offices have NOT endorsed any candidate for the State Senate from the 14th Senatorial District.
3. The only endorsement you have from the State level, Mr. Eshback, is a personal one from Governor John S. Fine, who is wholeheartedly advocating your candidacy.

In closing, may I caution you that even in politics "fair play" still exists, and that the public is always entitled to the truth.

Sincerely,

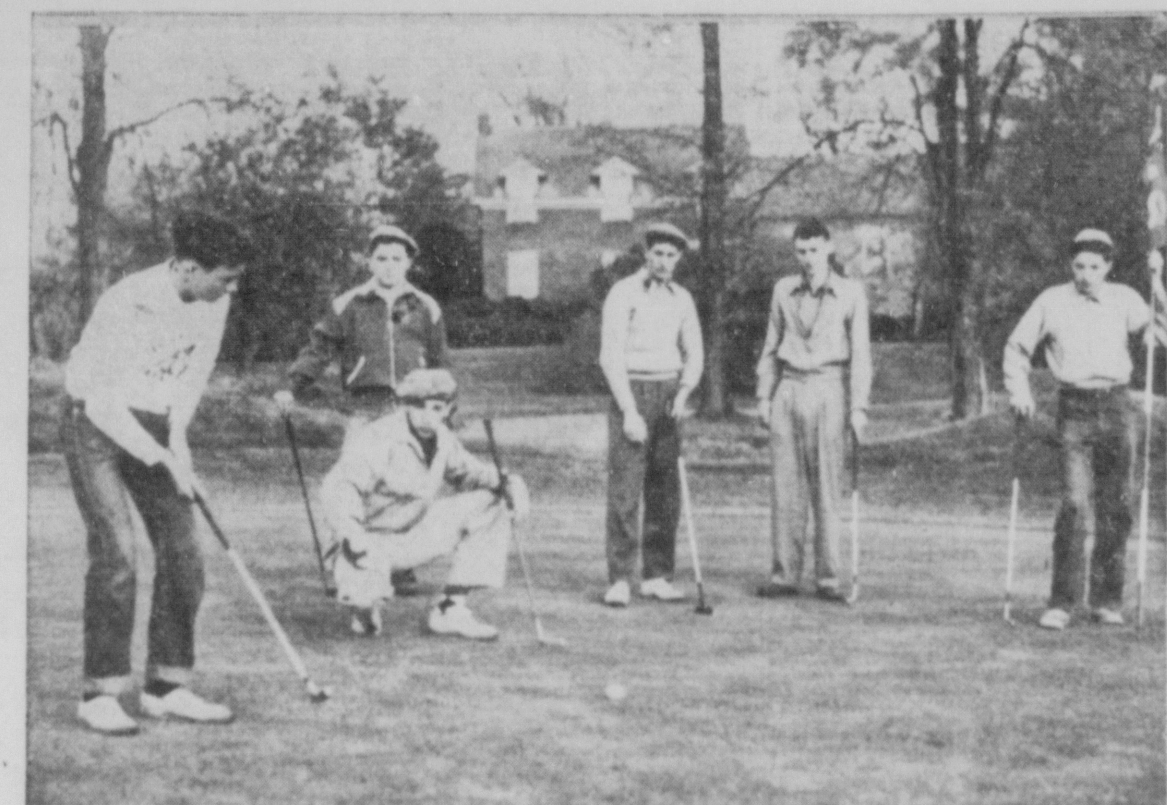

(Signed) William Z. Scott

Chase Leads Quartet Of East Stroudsburg High Golfers Into District Eleven Tournament

Joe Chase shot a 97 at Glen Brook yesterday to lead four students of East Stroudsburg High school into the District 11 Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association golf tournament to be held on Thursday, May 20 on a course still to be named.

Those qualifying for a position in the tournament in addition to Chase are Dick Haase, Paul Turner and Jim Terrill.

The field was originally 11 strong, but only four could be chosen for PIAA play at the completion of the 36-hole grind which came to an end yesterday.

Chase put the second round 97 to a first round 100 for a final count of 197.

Turner, well known in East Stroudsburg basketball circles, was next in line with a 209. Paul shot a 108 on Wednesday and a 101 yesterday.

Haase was third with a 217 count. Haase carded a 112 on Wednesday and a 105 yesterday. Terrill was fourth with a 211, shooting a 126 Wednesday and a 118 yesterday.

Two members of the original field of 11 had to drop out of competition because of baseball practice.

An announcement concerning the course on which the District 11 PIAA tournament will be played is expected to be released in the very near future.

Locally Bred Terriers Win Numerous Prizes In Shows

Shawnee-on-Delaware—Two locally bred Scottish Terriers have been the rage of the show world it was learned last night.

Shawnee Good Cheer and Shawnee Gaiety, bred by the Shawnee Kennels, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Parke W. Unangst, have won numerous awards in recent months.

In the past two months Shawnee Good Cheer, 13 months old and claimed to be the best Scottish Terrier in the United States by several dog magazines, has won awards in no fewer than a dozen shows.

Good Cheer was second in the Scottish Terrier Club of Greater Washington, College Park, Md.; first in novice class of the Scottish Terrier Club of Maryland Show, Pikesville, Md.; first in novice at the Capital Kennel Club Show, Washington, D. C.; winners, best of breed, best of breed, first in terrier group for three points at the Hanover Kennel Club Show, Wilmington, N. C.

Long List

The Shawnee bred dog came up with winners, best of local terriers and best dog of show locally for one point at the Durham Kennel Club Show, Durham, N. C.; winners, best of breed and best of winners at Atlanta, Va.; winners, best of breed and third in terriers for one point at Wilson, N. C.; winners, best of winners, best of breed, second in terrier group for one point at the Fayetteville Show, Fort Bragg, N. C.; second in open and reserve winner at the Furniture City Kennel Club Show in High Point, N. C.; C. first in open, winners, best of opposite sex and three points at Burlington, N. C.; second in open class at the Carolina Kennel Club Show, Greensboro, N. C., and first in open, winners, best of opposite sex and two points at the Forsyth Kennel Club Show, Winston-Salem, N. C.

Shawnee Gaiety won first place in the puppy class of the Birmingham, Ala. show on Sunday, April 25 and was reserve winner to Norgay, a British import. Gaiety won exactly the same two prizes on Tuesday, April 27 at the Chattanooga, Tenn. show.

Gaiety is now owned by Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Kinnie, operators of Kinnie's Kennels, Chattanooga, Tenn.

Good Cheer is the property of J. Bruce Saunders, Henderson, N. C.

New York (AP)—Eduardo Lause, a highly touted import from the Argentine, and Chico Varona, the Cuban welter champ, give tonight's St. Nicholas Arena show a Latin American flavor.

Haegg's Prediction Comes True

London (AP)—Roger Bannister's sensational mile couldn't have been too much of a surprise to Gordon Haegg, who had predicted the British star would be the first to run the four-minute mile "because he has brains."

Statement

In a March 13 interview, Haegg said, "The four-minute mile will be run this year—it's overdue."

Martinez Gains Nod

Youngstown, O. (AP)—Vince Martinez, 150, Paterson, N. J., out-pointed Harold Jones, 145, Detroit, in a 10-round feature bout last night.

U.S. Star Not Disappointed

Lawrence, Kan. (AP)—America's top miller, Wes Santee of Kansas, said yesterday he was "not exceptionally disappointed" to hear that the first less-than-four-minute mile had been run by Roger Bannister of England.

Reasoning

"Of the milers capable of doing it, Bannister is the one I'd just as soon have seen break it," Santee said. "It was a great performance."

Pocono Host To Chestnuthill Today

First Place At Stake In County Loop

Chestnuthill and Pocono will battle for sole possession of first place in the Monroe County League today when the undefeated arch rivals clash at Tannersville, on the Pocono High field.

The circuit will present its usual number of three games, but the eyes of the rural reaches of Monroe County will be on Tannersville where the co-owners of the top spot at the present time match ability.

Action is scheduled to get underway at 2 p.m.

Chestnuthill has taken the measure of both Tobyhanna Township and Coolbaugh, while Pocono owns favorable nods over Coolbaugh and Barrett.

Driver's Seat

The winning team today will have a good newhavee gown with a good chance of winning the title, as only two contests remain after today's battles.

Meeting in important baseball games is nothing new for these arch foes. They have met countless times in recent years in games that played a direct role in deciding the championship.

Pocono meets Polk and TTHS after today, while Chestnuthill goes against Polk and Barrett in its two remaining games.

Other contests today will send Tobyhanna Township against Barrett, on the latter's home field, while Coolbaugh and Polk clash in Kresgeville.

The Coolbaugh-Polk battle is to begin at 2 p.m., with the weatherman's permission, while Barrett and TTHS get underway one hour later.

The Monroe County League will wind up its campaign on three more playing dates, providing the weatherman decides to aid the circuit.

Each team is playing only five league games this season.

Taylor Leads Greenbrier

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va. (AP)—Joe Taylor sneaked in from Charleston, W. Va. yesterday and horned in on Sam Sneed's Greenbrier Open golf tournament by beating par by five strokes with a 65 and the first round lead.

Sneed, who is out to win the tournament on his home course for the fourth straight time, strove mightily to get off in front, but had to be satisfied with runnerup, a stroke behind.

Third Place

Herman Schlarau of Boca Raton, Fla., and Jack Burke of Klamath Lake, N. Y., were tied for third at 68.

The 35-year-old Taylor wasn't added to the probable starters for the $10,000, 72-hole tournament until Wednesday.

Long Putt

The dark-complexioned former open champ ran down a 25-footer from off the green with a putter for a birdie at the par-four ninth for an outgoing 33. This gave him $25 for a holeout as part of the Turner extra money plan.

Then he came home in 35 to post his leading score.

Boros' position as the leader was in doubt until darkness. Pete Fleming, playing out of St. Andrews, Ill., and a native of Hot Springs, Ark., had a chance to better the 68 score. He went out in 31, three under par, but three bogies on the back side cost him dearly as he finished with a par-equaling 70.

"The leader was in no spot to let down in today's second round. Right after him with one-under-par 69s were Leo Biagetti, the 26-year-old Sandusky, Ohio, plucker; Walter Burkemo, PGA champion from Franklin, Mich., and Harold Williams Jr., of Tuscaloosa, Ala.

Bannister Nears Degree In Medicine

London (AP)—Roger Bannister, the man who at long last broke the four minute barrier in the mile run, is a strange athlete—slender, tall, boyish, studious and supremely confident.

He runs with a gliding, loping motion and his brilliant last lap sprints are famous both in England and the United States.

Bannister, who stands six feet one inch, is 25 years old and on the verge of receiving his degree in medicine. His approach to running is coldly scientific.

When he made his great clocking of 3:59.4 here he cleared his conscience for his fourth place finish in the 1,500 meters—the metric mile—at the 1952 Olympics in Helsinki.

All England had expected him to win, and Bannister set his heart on the Olympic crown. Even the Duke of Edinburgh, a great sports fan in his own right, timed his visit to Helsinki so that he could see the 1,500 meter final.

Bannister, however, was jostled by the fast field and never got into contention. Josy Barthel of Luxembourg won the event.

Bannister told friends the Olympic 1,500 was one of his greatest disappointments and he felt he could only blot it out with a supreme performance.

Yesterday he came through with that performance—the first man ever to run the classic mile in less than four minutes.

The problem of the human ingredients needed to run a truly fast mile soon took over all his attention. His studies to become a physician and his lessons in human anatomy and physical training added to his knowledge. By the time he was 20 he was an authority both in the theory of running, and in the practice of it.

Bannister was only 18 when he first said that in his opinion a mile could be run in less than four minutes. Probably that was when he first decided to challenge the great four minute barrier.

Late this year he hopes to become Dr. Roger Bannister. He aims to be a neurosurgeon.

Bannister, who was born March 24, 1929, at Harrow, England, is the son of a British treasury official who cared little for athletics. His father and mother, however, were on the Oxford track to see their son become one of the immortals of sport.

es Gain Nod Over Pirates, 3-0

Milwaukee (AP)—Lanky Lew Burdette scarcely wasted a pitch yesterday, throwing only 95 as he shut out the Pittsburgh Pirates, 3-0, on five hits to move the Milwaukee Braves into fifth place in the National League on their third straight victory.

Burdette, the converted fireman, walked two and struck out one in chalking up the first whitewash of the year by a Braves' pitcher in the shortest game of the season here, one hour and 32 minutes. The Milwaukee infield turned in four double plays to speed up the contest, played in 46-degree temperature before a Ladies' Day crowd of 13,945.

Scoring

Leadoff man Bill Bruton opened the scoring in the first with a single to left, moved to second on an infield out and counted on Ed Matthews' single to center. The Braves added another in the fourth on Joe Adcock's single, Henry Aaron's double and a sacrifice fly by Burdette, and their third in the fifth on singles by Danny O'Connell and Matthews and Andy Patko's outfield fly.

The three-game series, despite temperatures far under 50 each day, drew 39,522 fans including 2,089 ladies and boosted the Braves' paid attendance for 12 home games to 249,050.

Cubs Score In Overtime To Take Measure Of Dodgers, 8-7

Chicago (AP)—Ernie Banks' 11th inning double plus an error scored "Randy" Jackson from first to give the home run-powered Chicago Cubs an 8-7 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers yesterday.

Banks' game-breaking blow eluded Dodger leftfielder George Shuba to give reliever Hal Jeffcoat, converted outfielder, his first major league victory.

Three Homers

The Cubs, held without a home run Wednesday for the first time in 13 games, got three yesterday for a season total of 31 in 15 games.

"Hank" Sauer, hitting safely in his 14th straight game, slammed his ninth homer and 200th of his major league career with none on in the third. But the smash which ruined Dodger starter Carl Erskine was Dee Fondy's three-run homer in the fifth. In the same inning, Jackson poked a two-run homer.

But Chicago's 7-5 lead was erased in the Dodgers sixth by Gil Hodges' sixth homer of the season after "Duke" Snider walked with two out.

Wyatt's Son Draws Notice

Atlanta (AP)—Note to baseball scouts—nearby Buchanan, Ga., has a young pitcher who will bear watching.

Ace's Son

He's 14-year-old John Whitlow Wyatt Jr., son of the former Brooklyn Dodger ace. He already has accomplished a feat his father failed to do in 30 years of mound duty—pitched a seven-inning no-hit game. To top it all, however, he struck out 21 batsmen.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

A remark made within the space occupied by this column earlier this week concerning the fact that some area scholastic baseball players were jeopardizing their eligibility evidently needs further explaining. As far as this reporter knows none of the local youngsters are playing with major adult teams in the area. But, some are playing with teams formed between rival villages, which constitutes a breach of Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association ethics. I am anxious to point out today that the situation isn't as serious as the original mention might lead one to believe.

Youngsters playing on rival village teams as mentioned above insist on having the box score of said game published and the remark made earlier this week was that no authorities in any of the Monroe County schools, to the best of my knowledge, knows that any member of their respective baseball teams are ineligible. As far as this reporter knows, every school in the area is strict about its eligibility list and enforces the eligibility rule to the letter of the law.

It is up to the youngster playing high school sports to protect his status. By playing outside contests the youngster not only hurts himself, but proves to be a heavy weight around the necks of his team and school. I repeat that I'm certain that no high school players are currently going through the paces with any of our major adult teams, but those playing high school baseball must also quit playing with youngsters carrying the names of various villages. This may or may not be a breach of PIAA rules and it's not worth the chance to find out. Too many people can be hurt.

Anyone interested in Little League baseball may see a movie "short" entitled "This Is Little League" at the Grand Theater. The three-day showing is scheduled to come to an end today. The film shows in the afternoon and at 7:10 and 9:10 p.m. All players in the qualifying round of the 31st annual Shawnee Invitation Golf Tournament received colorful ash trays to denote the event yesterday. The field of 178 is one of the largest in the history of the event. Lee Fish, the Phillipsburg, N. J., golfer who won medalist honors with a 74 has scored as low as 71 on the well groomed Shawnee Country Club course.

East Stroudsburg State Teachers College may have to face Montclair in track on Sunday with three members on the sidelines. Gary Panovec, former Wilson Borough High star, who has developed into a crack quarter-mile, is currently hampered by a pulled leg muscle. Bill Schaeffer didn't practice yesterday because of a sore throat and Jack Andrews, javelin thrower, has been at home ill for the past week. Montclair will present tough opposition for the Warriors.

Preliminary plans and probable cost of a proposed new gymnasium at Pocono High school will be presented to the school board at its next meeting. The construction of a new gym will make it possible to build at least two new classrooms and remodel other parts of the school for additional classroom space. This step, in the opinion of this scribe, is one of the biggest moves forward in Pocono Township education in many years. It will greatly benefit the athlete and non-athlete alike. The situation will be placed before the voters in November.

Bruce Possinger, secretary of the Monroe County Softball League, became a father for the third time recently and is currently walking in the clouds. The winner of today's baseball game between Chestnut Hill and Pocono High schools will take over undisputed possession of first place in the Monroe County League. The winner will also be in the driver's seat as far as the 1954 championship is concerned. Both will take undefeated records into today's battle. Each will have two more games remaining on the schedule, as the circuit winds up its campaign a week from Tuesday.

Tobyhanna Signal Depot dropped another Scranton Industrial Softball League contest on Wednesday. The latest loss was by a 10-5 count to Bell Telephone. The contest was played on Sloan field. Dick Owens, former Stroudsburg High basketball star, is back in good health once again after a recent bout with pneumonia. "Wimpy" Nardello, former pitcher with Nazareth, of the defunct class "B" North Atlantic League, is currently pitching with Richmond, of the class "AAA" International League. Nardello also had a trial with the Philadelphia A's a couple of seasons back.

Ed Varhely, winner of 20 and loser of two games with the Stroudsburg Poconos in 1949, is now pitching with Havana, also of the International League. Ed has been limited to relief roles thus far this season. The slightly built southpaw appeared in three rescue roles last week and was charged with one defeat. Ed gave up a total of seven hits in six and two-thirds innings.

Fish Wins Medalist Honors In Shawnee Invitation

Match Play Scheduled To Begin Today

Shawnee - on - Delaware

Les Fish, little known golfer from Phillipsburg, N. J., conquered Shawnee's wind-swept course yesterday to win medalist honors in the 31st annual Shawnee Invitation Golf Tournament.

Fish, finishing on top of the list of 128 starters, was only two over par for the Shawnee layout, despite high winds and cold weather that sent other scores skyrocketing to abnormal figures.

The Phillipsburg resident went out in 40, three over par, but fouled the back nine in 34, one under regulation figures. Fish accounted for four birds, two on each nine.

Howard Everett, annual power from Atlantic City, finished second in the gigantic field with a 75, going out in 40 and coming home in regulation 35 figures. Everett's card showed 15 pars and three bogies.

Also at 75 were defending title holder Ellis Taylor, Wilmington, Del., and Frank "Pooch" Allan, Pittsford. Taylor had a 39-36 card, while Allan came up with a 41-34.

Norman Staats, Easton, and Bill DeLattre, Garden City, Long Island, were next in line with 76s. Staats missed an opportunity of at least sharing medalist honors by three-putting the 13th and 18th greens after shooting a birdie on the first hole.

In Line

Deadlocked at 77 were Jim Mayer, New Rochelle, N.Y., Dr. Emory Ungard, Trenton, and Olin Cerrochi, Bayside, L.I. Spencer Overton, Baltimore, Donald Alan, Pittsford, and George Kaye, New Hyde Park, N.Y., were deadlocked at 78.

Dr. Francis Wichenbach, Bath, Maine, Dr. Ben Pastorini, New York, and Walter Hankin, Trenton, came home with 79s. M. A. Adams, Forest Hills, N.Y., and Bob Davies, of the Rochester Royals, an entry in the National Basketball Association, carded 80s.

Several Monroe County and surrounding area golfers were also in the field. The list and scores include Col. Gordon Savage, Shawnee, 99; Frank Patterson, Shawnee, 85; Marty Baldwin, Stroudsburg, 96; Joe Barnes, Stroudsburg, 88; Larry Ross, Shawnee, 96; Ross Parks, Shawnee, 88, and Dr. Joseph Kassaway, Allentown, 82.

Tournament match play begins this morning.

Chisox Down Senators, 5-4

Washington (AP) — The league-leading Chicago White Sox rallied for two runs with two out in the ninth inning to defeat Washington 5-4 yesterday. Orestes Minoza led Chicago's 11-hit attack with four singles, driving across four runs. Roy Sievers lifted the Senators into a 4-3 lead in the seventh when he blasted his fourth home run of the season into the leftfield bleachers to break a 3-3 tie.

Rally

With two out in the ninth, Nelson Fox doubled high off the right field wall and Minoza's fourth single scored Fox with the tying run. Third baseman Eddie Yost fumbled Bob Boyd's grounder and Willard Marshall singled to center to score Minoza with the winning run. It was Marshall's first RBI of the season.

Ferris Fain and Manager Paul Richards of the White Sox were ejected from the game for registering protests over two decisions. Chicago — 100 020 002 — 5 11 0 Washington — 001 020 100 — 4 8 3

Yanks Blank Orioles, 9-0

New York (AP) — Allie Reynolds pitched one hit ball until he was forced to retire in the eighth inning with a leg cramp as the New York Yankees yesterday blanked Baltimore 9-0. The only hit off Reynolds was a leadoff scratch single by Bobby Young in the first inning.

Bob Kuzava, who replaced Reynolds in the eighth, allowed singles by Dick Kryhoski and Young. Vic Wertz singled off Bob Grim in the ninth for the fourth Baltimore hit.

Big Day

The Yanks rapped Joe Coleman and his successor for 11 hits including "Yogi" Berra's third homer of the year with Joe Collins on base in the first.

It was the third shutout in 16 games for the Orioles, who have scored only 32 runs all season. Baltimore — 000 000 000 — 0 4 1 New York — 400 003 20x — 9 11 0

Eagles Crush Worthington Mower, 18-3

Scoring in every inning the Eagles rolled to an 18-3 victory over Worthington Mower in a Monroe County Softball League tussle at Gordon Giffels field last night.

The win kept the Eagles very much in the midst of the first half pennant dash.

Worthington Mower was never in the contest as the Eagles picked up five runs in the first frame and glided to victory with at least one run in each inning.

Five More

The Eagles exploded for five more runs in the sixth inning.

One game is on the agenda today, with Jack's Market meeting Cooper's Laundry at Stroudsburg Playground. Action is slated to get underway at 6:15 p.m.

East Stroudsburg Baseball Squad To Invade Coplay

East Stroudsburg High will attempt to improve its standing in the Lehigh-Northampton Baseball League today when the Cavaliers tangle with undefeated Coplay, on the latter's home field. The first pitch is scheduled to take place at 4 p.m.

ESSTC Girls Take Over Sports Scene

Coplay and Nazareth are virtually tied for first place in the standings at the present time. Nazareth has won four games without a setback, while Coplay has a mark of three wins and no defeats.

Two Victories

East Stroudsburg will enter today's battle with two wins and one setback on the ledger. The Cavaliers have taken the measure of Parkland and Pen Argyl and have suffered a 4-3 loss to Nazareth.

Copay and Nazareth are virtually tied for first place in the standings at the present time. Nazareth has won four games without a setback, while Coplay has a mark of three wins and no defeats.

The Warriors will oppose the lassies of Swarthmore in tennis and archery. Both events will take place at Swarthmore.

Coach Mary Whitenight will send her tennis squad after victory number four in an effort to protect a perfect record. The Warriors will also oppose the Alumnæ tomorrow, at home.

ESSTC's tennis squad will answer the starting bell with its usual lineup. The Warriors will also oppose the Alumnæ tomorrow, at home.

The ESSTC archery squad, under the direction of Coach Katherine Griffith, will be making its initial outing of the current campaign. Eight girls will take part in today's action.

An archery match between ESSTC and the University of Pennsylvania is scheduled for Monday, in Philadelphia.

Stroudsburg Slated To Oppose Leighton On Foreign Field

Stroudsburg High School will attempt to even its Lehigh Valley League baseball record today when the Mountaineers tangle with Leighton, on the latter's home field. Action is scheduled to get under way at 4 p.m.

The Mountaineers own a circuit victory over Palmerton, but in the past week have dropped successive 4-1 decisions to Slatington and Whitehall. The victory over Palmerton was by a 2-1 margin.

Coach Jerry Stulgaitis will send Captain Dick Shuster to the hill once again for the Mountaineers. Shuster has started every league game for the W. Main St. contingent.

Slow Start

Leighton got off to a slow start this season but has shown plenty of offensive punch even in defeat.

Dick Campeotto will handle the catching chores once again for Stroudsburg, while Dave Nevil is on first base; Paul "Doc" Lim, second base; Karl Weingartner, shortstop; Dick "Pickles" Hintze, third base; LeRoy Van Buskirk, left field; Howard Miller, center field, and Bill Carson, right field.

Stulgaitis is hopeful that Stroudsburg will snap out of its hitting slump today. The Mountaineers accounted for eight hits in all three league outings and all have been credited to three players.

The Mountaineers return home next Tuesday to clash with Northampton, at Gordon Giffels field.

Softballers To Erect Backstop

It was decided at a meeting of the Monroe County Softball League last night to erect a backstop at Gordon Giffels field on Saturday. The meeting was held at the home of Jack Mullins, circuit president.

Time

League officials and members of the respective teams are asked to be present at 1:30 p.m. to begin the construction task.

Juniors Get Experimental Report Cards

East Stroudsburg High School juniors blazed a trail this week—whether they knew it or not.

The juniors were chosen as the "trial" class for a new secondary-level report card. To get public reaction to the experimental cards, high school officials sent two cards home with each student.

One card was the "official" old style report card. The second was the "unofficial" new-style card.

In a letter, carried home with the two cards, high school principal Ralph O. Burrows explained the purpose of the experiment. Addressed to "parents or guardians of juniors," the letter says:

"For the fifth marking period the members of our junior class have been given two report cards. The old card is the official card while the other one is a new card developed this year cooperatively by a committee of parents, students and teachers."

"It is the report card committee's hope that you will study the new card carefully. Please note the changes in the marking system as well as the addition of marks in the areas of 'preparation and effort' and 'attitude and adjustment.'"

"If there should be a difference in the achievement marks on the cards, the school wants you to know that the usual card is the official one."

"Our report card committee would like to know whether or not you like the new card. Won't you help this committee by writing your comments on the bottom of this letter and returning it to the school by your son or daughter?"

On the new report card each pupil receives three grades in each of his subjects. Achievement is graded by the A, B, C method with everything below C minus a failure. Preparation and effort and attitude and adjustment are marked by a "1" for commendable; "2" for satisfactory and "3" for unsatisfactory.

EUB Church Leaders To Assemble

Henryville—Keokee Chapel near here will be the scene of the Eastern area convocation of the Evangelical United Brethren Church May 18 to 20.

Starting with registration at 3 p. m. Tuesday, May 18, the conference is sponsored by the General Commission on Town and Country Church.

Dr. O. A. Hyden of Allentown, conference superintendent will bring greetings and offer devotions at the 7:30 p. m. session opening day. Rev. Joseph W. Schober will preside. Special music by Pocono Union Church will feature.

Main address on Tuesday by Dr. C. W. Winch, superintendent of Western Pennsylvania Conference will be "The Redemption of the Family." A fellowship supper is scheduled for 5:30 preceding the meeting. Rev. A. R. Hunsberger will preside and Dr. B. H. Cain, director of Town and Country Church will speak on "The Community Mission of the Church."

While members are here they will maintain headquarters in Crescent Lodge. Rev. C. P. E. Pottinger of Telford is registrar and Rev. A. M. Herman of Bangor is convocation pianist, with Richard Engle as song leader.

Wednesday, May 19 the program opens with breakfast morning watch at 7:30 a. m. in charge of Rev. Wilbur S. Seeley.

A recreational program will be held from 8:15 to 8:45 a. m. with J. R. Cardenuto, rural sociologist of Penn State University listed in charge.

Rev. C. R. Westlager will preside for the 9 a. m. service in the church. Dr. J. W. Kroecker, editor of Telescope-Messenger will speak. A panel discussion with laymen as members will highlight the morning program.

After luncheon in Crescent Lodge, sessions will resume again at 1:30. A service with Rev. Elwood Needy in charge and Rev. C. F. Spangenberg, host pastor, is scheduled for 7:30 p. m. Keokee Chapel choir will sing.

On Thursday, closing day, Bishop David T. Gregory of the East Central Area, will give the main address at 10:30 a. m. following a business meeting. The convocation is scheduled to conclude at 11:30 a. m.

Green Grass Is Not Enough

The cow in this illustration is milking herself right into the pail. This often happens in the Spring when the grass is tender and juicy. Cows like it, but because of its high water content, they can't eat enough grass to supply nutrients for their body and production. Sure, production increases; new grass is highly stimulating. But she's producing at body expense. Then when Summer rolls round, already down in body weight, she begins her "summer slump" in milk. So don't rob your cows... keep 'em on a good Purina milking ration.

HEALTH HINT!

Purina Disinfectant is just as handy around the house as a pocket in a shirt. It's ideal for disinfecting milking equipment, waterers, feeders, farrowing pens, just to mention a few of its many uses.

Purina Disinfectant is the housewife's friend, too. When used properly, it's harmless to the skin and has a host of uses in the house as a sanitizer and deodorizer. We have it at our store.

WE HAVE a number of booklets on livestock and poultry for your use. Next time you're in the store ask us for these books... they may help you increase profits on your farm. We're expecting you to come in for a visit.

THEY FARM BY TOUCH, NOT SIGHT

ANYONE WATCHING Bill and Ray Symes work around their dairy farm in Kansas City, Mo., or Rufus Arnold planting on his land in Pontotoc, Miss., would be surprised to learn that these farmers are blind. They are part of some 2,000 sightless persons supporting themselves by farming or working as farm hands. Another 1,500 contribute to their own support by raising produce for their own consumption or taking seasonable jobs in produce warehouses. These workers are helping to destroy the old belief that blindness makes it impossible for a person to work on a farm. Many public and private agencies are developing programs specifically designed to help the sightless learn the techniques for this type of occupation. Through special training, blind farmers have learned to feed stock, milk cows, grade eggs, cull and dress poultry and build fences.

Brothers Bill and Ray Symes shell corn for fodder on dairy farm in Kansas City, Mo.

Rufe is clearing away part of his land for the planting of his crops.

Bill and Ray are experts whether milking by hand or by machine (as here).

Poconos Continue Growth With Addition Of Motels

By James B. Gaffney

Some realization of the vast growing powers of the Poconos can be extracted from tomorrow's debut of two ultra-modern motels, one near Marshalls Creek, the other between Stroudsburg and Delaware Water Gap.

When a source close to the heart of the Vacation Bureau predicted this week that resort and hotel owners have spent $2 million in new construction and remodeling for this season he perhaps was somewhat modest.

The figure of $2 million advanced by the forecasters of good things for the tourist trade puts only a small dent in the expenditures that retail and wholesale houses have spent getting ready for the 1954 vacation season.

New service stations, ice cream stands, novelty shops, used car lots, restaurants, children's parks, community swimming pools and a long list of other new buildings are not mentioned in the $2 million guess.

Add them together and what do we have?—a rapidly expanding Pocono Mountains, rich in assessable property and a well-filled bowl of honey awaiting the flight of Summer bees.

And this is only the beginning.

More construction like the Howard Johnson restaurant listed for Delaware Water Gap is coming up in 1955.

Taking stock, let's not forget the everyday motion by the Chamber of Commerce and real estate men to persuade industry to locate here, giving the area an around-the-clock solid foundation; the efforts of New Jersey and Pennsylvania highway officials in funneling traffic to the Poconos in a tongue-in-cheek applause subject to change with Pennsylvania's decision on bypassing Stroudsburg; and the potential for developing northern Monroe County held by Tobyhanna's Signal Corps Depot.

Slept in history, the Poconos area still is an infant in its potentialities. Resort and industry-wise, its only cutting its baby teeth.

And two of those baby teeth due to cut through tomorrow are Rosann and Daviduke motels.

Located just east of Route 611 on Foxtown Hill south of Stroudsburg, Rosann Motel was built off the main artery to afford patrons rest and relaxation. The same is true of Daviduke's Modern Motel, just north of Marshalls Creek. Both have all the latest accommodations.

Rosann is managed by Rocco Ursino and Nan A. Kahler, while Alex Daviduke is owner of the Marshalls Creek motel.

When the Yarn Shop at 515 N. Fifth St., Stroudsburg opened officially yesterday it spelled a brand new experience for owner, Mrs. Marcelle Dunlap.

An experienced hand at sewing, and even as a teacher of a sewing class, Mrs. Dunlap until recently had no visions of her own business. But then the opportunity presented itself and a new door opened for the seamstress.

Wife of Glen Dunlap, local distributor of beverages, Mrs. Dunlap will handle low priced but top quality goods, in addition to selling notions and other items essential for sewing.

Her main selling point is the decision to avoid any duplication of material, and in this manner will be able to supply fabrics so that the same material is not used in making a number of the same style garment.

Imported Egyptian cotton, Italian silk, London suede and other fabrics made abroad are found on the five tables she has set up in her new shop at the rear of her home. Later she expects to add British wools to the stock, and also intends to broaden the scope of materials already on shelves.

A sign on N. Fifth St. directs customers to a driveway, and parking facilities are provided by the shop, located in a section of the warehouse building her husband uses in his business.

Interior of the Yarn Shop is modern in design, with fluorescent lighting and natural finished walls. Mrs. Dunlap is being assisted by her daughter, Mrs. James Cummings and intends to operate from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., closing Wednesday afternoons. Monday and Friday nights she also expects to stay open until 9.

Monroe County Cooperative Dairy with its main office in Stroudsburg, McMichaels and Brodheadville is the new owner of Snow's Mountain.

Drive Inn near Wigwam Park on Route 611 just north of Stroudsburg.

Harry Snow will continue there as manager. The building recently was renovated and is open for business now.

A conference on service station operation was held this week with about 25 Esso Standard Oil Co. representatives attending the session in the Penn Stroud Hotel.

Fred W. Kogley, local representative, said about 25 dealers from Monroe, Pike and Northampton Counties attended. Verne Devine of Wilkes-Barre, district manager, was the speaker. William T. Morgan, also of Wilkes-Barre, a company engineer, demonstrated quality products of gasoline and oil. A film on merchandising was shown following the parity.

Awards for the first week's prize winners in A&P's current "thank-you promotion" was held this week in the food chain's general offices in Scranton.

Major prize winners are being announced in A&P advertising and complete lists posted in all stores. The promotion continues until May 22.

Librarians Meet Today At College

More than 60 members of the Lehigh Valley district of the Pennsylvania Library Association will attend a conference at State Teachers College today.

Members of the program committee are: Mrs. Elizabeth Kane, Monroe County Public Library; Dolores Lesoine, East Stroudsburg high school librarian; and members of the college library staff.

Ruth A. Martin is the librarian at the college. She will be hostess for the conference.

A number of instructive exhibits will be on display for the visiting librarians. Local historical materials will be shown, including LeRoy Koehler's "History of Monroe County."

Dr. Francis McGarry, head of the college Department of Education, will explain the agencies through which small libraries may receive films and tape recordings for audio-visual purposes. His talk will be illustrated by material used by the college.

Dr. Donald Corson, music department chief, will discuss the small record library plan. Dr. Eugene Oshander will have charge of the final item during the morning session—a demonstration of the use of bulletin boards, particularly the flannel board.

An exhibit of posters which have been used to good effect by other librarians in the district will supplement this demonstration.

After lunch, Thomas Knepp, Stroudsburg High School instructor, will show slides of the county and Buck Hill Falls where a state meeting is to be held this fall.

Final portion of the program will be devoted to a special feature by Mrs. Harold Flagler who will present a group of women from the American Association of University Women in "Some Delineations of Women by William Shakespeare." The program features selected characterizations of women from "Julius Caesar," "Antony and Cleopatra" and other Shakespearean plays.

Secretaries Cancel Tea For Students

Cancellation of a tea for commercial students in Monroe County schools was announced last night by Miss Carolyn Lapinsky, chairman. The affair was planned last month by Stroudsburg chapter, National Secretaries Association.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 2. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked numbers give you.

Dear Mr. Heller:
The Woman's Club of Stroudsburg was recently privileged to serve in a fine community health project.

May we, thru this medium, thank the members and all the other women who worked so diligently and gave so freely of their time?

We are, of course, indebted to you for your cooperation and sincerity in allowing us this expression of appreciation.

Gratefully Yours,
Verna A. Kohn,
Corresponding Secretary of The Woman's Club

Dear Mr. Heller:
Your editorial this morning was wonderfully well timed and the "piece de resistance." Please accept our thanks for your cooperation which I believe is going to help our cause to a great extent.

We can only hope now that "the one hand" will cooperate a little better with the "other."

Sincerely yours,

Mr. H. Heller,

Stroudsburg, Pa.

Dear Mr. Heller:
I am writing to you to register my protest concerning the proposed detour near Cresco on Route 90.

Let us accept that road improvements are beneficial and desirable, but must they be accomplished at the price that we in this resort area must pay? The season is a relatively short one, and the proposed detour is taking the heart out of it. There is no doubt that we suffered as a result of last year's detour; must we take it again this year, and perhaps next year, and for several years thereafter? Is it lack of foresight? Is it poor planning? Is it intentional? It is political? What is the answer?

It affects not only the business people in the area but all of the concerns traveling into the area selling wares and services. As reported, approximately $50,000 was lost to this area last summer but that in no way includes the higher costs of operation for concerns previously mentioned, loss of time and extra expense for the residents in traveling through the detour and loss of those guests who were inconvenienced and might not return.

The closing of the same road last summer cost the resort operators of this area a loss conservatively placed at one-half million dollars. Now, because of an error in the layout of the work done last summer, several hundred feet of road have to be torn up and re-laid. Instead of closing the road to traffic, a temporary detour road could be constructed alongside the present route, permitting the free flow of traffic. The Highway Department refuses to consider this because of cost, estimated at less than $10,000. The error is the responsibility of the Highway Department, and its arbitrary stand against this comparatively small expenditure, as against the financial loss to the business interests in the community, reflects a stubborn and bureaucratic type of thinking.

A second detour, some distance north of the one just described, is also planned, this because of the reconstruction of Route 90 where the newly constructed portion joins the existing road. The contractor on this job has been working for several months, none of the work involving a detour; had the Highway Department made proper specifications, the reconstruction work on Route 90 could have been done prior to this date, in a season of the year when resort traffic would not be affected, and the contractor could now proceed with the work which does not involve a detour. Such planning and specification of the work would have eliminated the necessity of the present planned detour; again it would be possible to install a temporary detour road immediately alongside the existing road.

Barrett Township feels it is being treated most unfairly in this whole matter. The detours proposed involve traveling over 21 miles to reach points less than six miles from the township. Vacationers who, for years, have visited this area, were inconvenienced all last summer; to have to go through the same thing again this year would drive many of them to other resorts. The Highway Department at first muddled the whole thing by conflicting statements about the length of time the road would be closed, and when they could no longer evade a definite answer, assumed a stubborn and arbitrary attitude of refusing to consider the alternative of installing temporary detour roads.

The Rotary Club of the Pocono Mountains, representing a good cross section of the business and professional life of Barrett Township, protest against this arbitrary use of the authority of the Highway Department.

Yours truly,
Rotary Club of the Pocono Mountains
Harold N. MacMurray,
President

Editor's Note: Lee B. Marks, who holds the contract for the Cresco project, announced Wednesday night that the Route 90 traffic detour will be lifted by June 1, weather permitting. He made the announcement after the state had arranged to build a temporary road alongside the new construction.

Our Lodge is obliged to make at least three trips each day to Cresco and points north, and we feel that something should be done to ascertain whether it is possible to leave the road open while the work is going on. We respectfully suggest that they bear in mind that that is the only decent roadway to the Cresco, Mountainhome, Buck Hill, Canadensis, and Skytop area, which area contains about 30 active resorts whose business months are June, July, and August. That the total number of guests each week, runs in the thousands, and that over half come from points outside our own state. This source of revenue will drop sharply if the road is blocked. Please try to help us in this matter.

Respectfully yours,
Eugene R. Rossi
Mountainhome, Penna.

Dear Sir:
At its regular meeting held this evening, Wednesday, May 5th, the Rotary Club of the Pocono Mountains went on record unanimously as protesting the outrageous action of the State Highway Department of the matter of closing Route 90 for the second consecutive summer.

The closing of the same road last summer cost the resort operators of this area a loss conservatively placed at one-half million dollars. Now, because of an error in the layout of the work done last summer, several hundred feet of road have to be torn up and re-laid. # Meter Revenue Continues To Show Upturn

Parking meter receipts in Stroudsburg continue their heavy upsurge over last year with April showing a $1,147.42 increase over the same month of 1953.

Secretary Harold E. Snyder compiled a report submitted to council this week which shows April receipts this year were $3,439.32 compared with $2,291.90.

For the calendar year to date the increase amounts to $4,755.15. Total returns at the end of the current calendar year was $13,342.71 compared with $8,587.56 the previous year.

For the 12-month period ending with April 30 receipts were up $10,595.64 over the previous 12 months. Revenue the past 12 months was $39,731.59 compared with $29,135.95 the previous 12 months.

Chief of Police James F. McConnell's report shows the borough received $1,091 in fines for 198 arrests and citations. McConnell also reported there were eight motor vehicle accidents in April, all but one of which involved damages over $100.

Fire Chief Millard Marsh reported the Stroudsburg Fire Department had nine fire calls during April.

Bills approved for payment on the regular account totaled $11,402.41. The sewer account bills for April amounted to $1,336.82.

Stocks Climb To New Highs

New York (AP) — The stock market continued its climb yesterday and established its fifth new high mark of the past six sessions.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks gained 70 cents at $123.40, a new high for the year and the best mark for the average since it was at $123.20 on April 23, 1950.

Among the better acting divisions yesterday were the railroads, steel, motors, oils, coppers, airlines, chemicals, and some air-crafts and textiles.

All three components of the average established new highs. Industrials gained $1.40 at $167.30, rails advanced 30 cents at $90.30; and the utilities were up 20 cents at $59.60.

The list was not particularly broad with 1,154 individual issues traded of which 567 advanced and 322 declined with 81 new highs and 16 new lows touched along the route.

Trading amounted to 1,980,000 shares as compared with 2,020,000 shares Wednesday.

Teen-Agers Air 'Troubles' With Opposite Sexes In Critiques For Literary Magazine

In Spring the fancies of young men and women turn to thoughts of "the battle of the sexes."

This, at least, is true at East Stroudsburg High School. There the battle has taken the form of a series of critiques written for publication in the fourth issue of the students' literary magazine, "The Sketch Book."

All the girls were asked by teacher John Eckert, their adviser, to write articles on "The Trouble With Boys . . ." And all the boys wrote similar pieces on "The Trouble With Girls . . ."

Some of the articles seem destined to start a nice round-robin, of controversy. Take this one, by Carol Evans, for example:

"Boys are nice to have around," says Carol, "but at the same time they are a nuisance. They expect a girl to bow at their command. If a girl even looks at another boy, he gets angry."

Most of the trouble, Carol says, lies with the other boys a girl's date may happen to know.

"Boys have a terrible habit of teasing another fellow if he goes with a girl. They are the ones who are missing all the fun," Carol says these guys are the ones who are dangerous because they're too afraid to ask for their own dates.

Then, there's the other side of the story:

"The trouble with girls is that they 'fib' about everything they don't want you to know," says Charles Litts. "If they would tell you the truth, everything would turn out much better. You can tell them things that would help them, but they won't listen. In fact they do the opposite. They are all alike."

Not only this, Litts continues, but "they expect you to remember all the little things that go with taking a girl out. They expect you to open a car door or help her with her coat."

Litts has some advice to the fledgling lothario with matrimony in the deep, unpurged pits of his mind, as well. Says he: "If you ask a girl to go steady and she does, you get yourself into a lot of trouble."

"Then you won't be able to do such things as going out with the boys and have fun. If you look or talk to another girl, you're done!"

Sharon Mosier has a few unkind things to say about modern boys' manners. To wit:

"The boys nowadays have no manners. If they know any, they certainly don't show them."

"If you're walking down the hall, boys will bump into you and never say 'Excuse me.'"

"Boys who play sports—such as football and basketball—think they're just 'it.' They expect all girls to fall at their feet just because they made a few baskets or touchdowns. Then, they shake Sharon, "they pretend they don't know you or don't want to see you."

Dick Derr has some philosophical observations to make on marriage as an institution. Derr, judging from his article, looks upon marriage as an institution for the mentally incompetent. Says Dick:

"Marriage is the bringing together of a boy and a girl—usually for life. Oh! I pity the poor boy because once he is married he is stuck for life."

"After marriage, you can do things you want to do only when your wife wants you to do them. After you're married, or even before, a woman thinks she owns a man."

"I think marriage is a bad thing and I doubt if I will ever indulge in it."

Two of the articles take side-long slaps at the "weaker sex" myth attributed to women. Says Nancy Pensyl, writing on "Boys":

"Why is it that they say boys are the stronger of the species? Boys try to prove it with their biceps, cowboy boots in the halls, driving hot-rods and, of course, breaking girls' hearts."

"Yes, they're strong until a Marilyn Monroe walks down the street. Who turns white under the collar when it comes time to walk down that long aisle of doom?"

Harvey Miller seems a little inclined to agree with Nancy in his treatise on girls. Here's what Miller has to say:

"The trouble with girls is they're supposed to be the weaker sex, but let me tell you, there are some mighty big brutes in that weaker sex."

"Some of the girls in school wouldn't know if a fellow liked them unless he stumbled and fell while she was chasing him."

"They come in all sizes—too big or too small, too fat or too thin. Then there are some who are just right, like a warm fire on a cold night. They are the ones who have a string of wolves a mile long behind them."

"To sum it up—girls may be trouble, but let me tell you we would be a mighty sad bunch of boys if we had nothing to gaze upon except each other."

And that sums up several other attitudes on the part of both boys and girls in the magazine. In addition to the articles quoted here, there are pieces by John Myra, Bob Storms, Elaine Allan, Louise Wiggins, Lois Wiggins, Shirley LaBarre, Gerald Zeman, Peggy Vogt, Pete Lorenzet, and Pat Chase.
